ILLNESS FATAL

JOHN WIEDEMANN

ASSISTANT CITY SOLICITOR DIES

Peritonitis Causes Death of John Wiedemann at Hospital Here.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Was Member of Marion County Bar Association; Leaves Widow and Son.

John Wiedemann, 30, of 310 East Walnut street, assistant city solicitor and police prosecutor in Marion for the last four years, died of general peritonitis last night at 11:20 at the City hospital. Mr. Wiedemann, one of Marion's most widely known young attorneys, underwent an emergency operation for removal of a ruptured appendix early Wednesday morning. He was taken ill Sunday night and was in bed Monday and Tuesday. A consultation was held Tuesday night, and he was removed to the hospital for an immediate operation.

Mr Wiedemann was the first president of the Marion Barristers club, a member of the Marion County Bar association, a member of the City boxing commission, Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., Marion Lodge No 32, B. P. O. Elks and Canby Lodge No. 51, Knights of Pythias His church affiliation was with Emanuel Lutheran church

Shortly after he was graduated from Ohio Northern university at Ada, in 1928, Mr. Wiedemann was admitted to the bar. He joined his brother, Frank Wiedemann Jr. and Carter M. Patton in the law firm of Wiedemann, Patton & Wiedemann Several years later the firm was dissolved and Mr Wiedemann and Mr. Patton organized the firm of Patton & Wiedemann, with Mr Patton serving as city solicitor and Mr Wiedemann as his assistant

Mr Wiedemann was graduated from Harding High school in 1921 and for several years afterwards was a salesman for the Bindley Grocery Co. In high school and at Ohio Northern university, Mr Wiedemann was active in the athletic and social organizations of the schools.

Mr. Wiedemann was born Feb 16, 1903, in Marion to Frank and Mae Hinds Wiedemann, both of

ABEL TAKES OVER NEW RELIEF DUTIES

Becomes County Director as New Organization Begins To Function.

John Abel of Pleasant Acres, who today became county relief director, was in conference with a representative of the state relief commission, preparatory to perfecting the county relief set up which will replace the city relief organization.

Emery M. Murphy who until today was in charge of city relief work, was on duty as city safety director this morning, a position he shared with relief work. He announced he will devote as much time to this office as it requires.

No changes in personnel or location of relief headquarters had been announced at noon today. Abel and the state commission's representative had not yet completed their inspection of the situation here.

It was indicated that the Davids Street school building, used for more than a year as city relief headquarters will be retained at least for several months under the county plan. A quantity of clothing and shoes on hand there, it was reported, will be distributed before a change is made.

Rockefeller Urges State Control of Liquor Sales

Report of Study Also Hits Profit Motive, High Prices and High Taxes.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct 23—John D Rockefeller Jr., laid in completed form before the public today the report of his study into the problems of liquor control after repeal—a report which expressed the hope that legalized sale of alcohol might mark the beginning of real temperance

The study regarded as its prime objectives the abolition of lawlessness, and the focusing of all forces of society on development of self control and temperance in the use of spiritous beverages

The study was undertaken by Raymond B. Fosdick and Albert L. Scott at Rockefeller's request a year ago, when Rockefeller came out for repeal.

Three points are stressed in the report—state control of liquor sales, elimination of the profit motive, and taxation primarily for social control rather than revenue

"Only as the profit motive is eliminated is there any hope of controlling the liquor traffic in the interest of a decent society," the report asserted.

Favors State Control

The best approach to the problem was declared to be through state control, "specifically a system by which the state, through a central authority, maintains exclusive monopoly of retail sale for off-premise consumption."

In this connection state-owned retail stores were recommended, although state manufacture was disfavored.

For administrative purposes a state liquor authority administered by a board of directors was recommended

Restoration of the old license system was opposed as one fostering "politics and corruption through private greed.

A strong position was taken

WHAT REPORT RECOMMENDS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—A summation of the liquor control study sponsored by John D. Rockefeller, Jr, shows the following salient recommendations:

State control and monopoly on liquor sales; elimination of profit motive; liberalization of wine and beer control, strict avoidance of high liquor taxes, rigid restriction of liquor advertising; abolition of the license system of liquor sales; avoidance of "bone dry" statutes in dry states, taxation for control rather than revenue.

WILLIAM N. DOAK, 51, LABOR LEADER, DIES

Heart Disease Costs Life of Cabinet Member Under Hoover.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—William N. Doak, secretary of labor in the Hoover cabinet and labor leader, died today at his home in Virginia.

William Doak

Doak, who was 51, died of heart disease. He suffered a severe attack about two weeks ago.

Born at Rural Retreat, in Wythe county, Va., he attended school at Bristol, Va., finishing a business college there.

He was the first secretary of labor born in the United States, Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, and William B. Wilson, his predecessors, both being born in the British isles.

Starting out as a trainman he became interested in labor questions and became general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Norfolk & Western system, in which high post he served from 1908 to 1916.

From 1916 until he became secretary of labor about three years ago he was the legislative representative here of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen

Recently he has made his home at McClean, Va. Funeral arrangements are to be announced later.

Because Doak's union was not connected with the American Federation of Labor, his appointment by President Hoover was bitterly contested by William Green, president of the Federation

Green praised Doak personally, but insisted the precedent of selecting secretaries of labor from the recognized American labor movement not be broken.

C. of C. To Be Reorganized After Drive

New Plan of Action To Be Adopted; Campaign Opens Tuesday.

Plans for a complete reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce were announced today as Chamber officials made final preparations to launch an intensive membership drive Tuesday morning. The drive will end Friday.

The new organization setup is scheduled to place W D Brown, manager, in complete executive charge of the Chamber with an executive committee and chairman to assist him in carrying out a program of activities. This setup will replace the present plan of a president, board of directors and secretary or manager.

Plan Used by Others

The reorganization will set up the administrative and executive machinery of the Chamber on a plan found to be most satisfactory in many cities Reorganization is scheduled to take place shortly after the membership drive.

Fifty workers will launch the membership drive Tuesday morning at an 8 a. m. breakfast in Hotel Marion. There will be a report luncheon Wednesday at noon in Hotel Marion and a "victory din

Boston Arrest Is Linked with Lindbergh Case

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 23—Echoes of the Lindbergh kidnaping were in the air today as Boston police delved into the past of John Gorch

Sergeant Arthur M. Tiernan and Inspector William J. Bonner, who arrested him yesterday, noted a strong resemblance to the much sought "John" of the Lindbergh kidnaping—the person to whom Dr John F Condon declared he paid $50,000 ransom.

Deputy Superintendent of Police James McDevitt said he communicated with Colonel Norman Schwartzkopf of the New Jersey state police, and that the New Jersey officer had been seeking Gorch for questioning since the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped March 1, 1932

Tiernan and Bonner pointed out that they considered a "remarkable resemblance" to the "John" to whom Dr Condon, "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh case, paid ransom money one midnight.

Police said Gorch had the official characteristic attributed to "John" by Dr. Condon, including the high forehead, sharp chin and widely spaced eyes A police circular said "John" spoke with a "Scandinavian or German accent."

Gorch, police said, spoke with a similar accent.

A woman found with Gorch was held for questioning.

U. S. Plans Huge Program for Aid of Agriculture

Billion and Quarter Expenditure Expected in Next Two Years To Reduce Excess Supply.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 — More than a billion and a quarter dollars will be spent in the next two years to carry out President Roosevelt's program for the replacement of poor farm lands with good and for a reduction of all surplus crops.

Figures furnished today by officials working on the program showed that on the one hand the government is preparing to spend upward of $900,000,000 to reduce crop surpluses and to buy up some of the existing excess to feed the needy. On the other, $300,000,000 approximates the amount that will be spent for irrigation, reclamation research, and for teaching the farmer efficiency

The objective as President Roosevelt has outlined it to his aids is this

First, to turn to pasturage or some other use the marginal or sub-marginal lands which can not be farmed economically.

To Increase Efficiency

Second, to replace, on the average, three acres of that land with one acre of new soil that will produce less than the three acres but on a more soundly economic basis.

Third, to hold production of basic

BEGIN REMOVAL OF CAR TRACKS

Work Starts Today on State Street; Will Pave with Amiesite.

WELDERS ARE EMPLOYED

Asked To Submit Bids on Burning Rails; Work To Be Rushed.

Removal of abandoned interurban rails from Marion streets was begun this morning by a crew of city workmen under the direction of E. O. Uncapher, service director

Work was begun on State street from Mill to Center, where rails and pavement between them will be replaced with amiesite to match with the street surface. Three or four days will be required to complete this section, Mr. Uncapher said

Welders Use Torches

Several welding concerns, prospective bidders for burning off rails in Center street, were given opportunity to try acetylene torches on the State street tracks.

It appeared as work began this morning, that rails in State street, like those in Center street, are fastened to steel ties buried in concrete and that it would be necessary to burn off the rails at the base, Mr Uncapher said.

Each welding concern will be asked to submit a bid for burning off the rails he said. He also announced other steps have been taken to prepare for the removal of Center street rails

Under present plans, the repaving of Center street will closely follow the crew removing rails, surfacing the street with brick. A carload of brick has been ordered to save loss of time in cleaning the old bricks While this carload is being used other workmen will clean the brick removed from between the rails and these will be relaid, Uncapher said

Plan Use as Detour

Work on State street north of Mill street has been delayed in view of the possible use of this street as a detour when the state highway department resurfaces North Main street Mr Uncapher explained

Director Uncapher said preparations for Center street work were being pushed to complete the job before winter weather handicaps the work and to finish the street in time for holiday traffic use

BUSINESSES IN TOWNS UNDER 2,500 EXEMPT

Will Go Into Effect Throughout Nation in One Week.

FOR ALL CHAIN STORES

New Compact Forbids Sales at Less Than Invoice Cost.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct 23—President Roosevelt in approving the retail code last night swung the NRA program into a new course by exempting both from the code and from the voluntary reemployment agreement retail stores employing less than five persons, in towns of 2,500 or less.

Making public the text of the code, Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson said that this was done because "our experience shows that the amount of reemployment and wage increase in these establishments is not enough to offset the handicap entailed"

"He is asking those who can do so to continue under the former rule," Johnson continued

The act made it possible for the code to go into effect a week from today at the beginning of the new month

It forbids sales at less than invoice.

The provisions apply to chain stores in small towns

The exemption for the small store keepers is a policy expected to be carried through by the President in all codes in order not to drive out of business the little man who finds it impossible to carry out the terms of the NRA without going out of business

Aimed at "Leaders"

Johnson explained the reason for a minimum price control provision in the code as being due to the practice of some stores of selling a few items at a loss in order to get people into the store the provision as written into the code provide that no store under its terms may sell an article for less than its invoice cost plus at least a portion of the wages paid to employes in the store.

"This is frankly an experiment," said Johnson "A distinguished committee is to be appointed at once to watch closely the operation of this code and to make recommendations on Feb. 1"

One-Third Exempted

The exemption of stores in communities under 2,500 population apparently removed close to one third of the country's retail establishments from operations under the industrial control law

The last accurate figures obtained in the 1930 census of distribution showed that 510,000 of the country's 1,543,000 stores were in the communities now exempt The number of chain stores in such small towns formed only a small proportion at that time since only 39,000 such establishments were listed from cities of 10,000 or less

The wave of bankruptcies which has swept the country during the last four years and which is blamed by NRA officials for putting out of business 400,000 merchants may have materially altered the figures since the census was taken Officials, however, were inclined to believe the proportion between large and small communities was not materially altered

Of the 1,543,000 stores listed in 1930, 482,000 handled foodstuffs exclusively. Since the code covers almost all lines of merchandise except food and drugs the number affected directly the present code is expected to be less than 1,000,000 However, the principles established

Washington Drops Other International Problems To Discuss Soviet Relations.

MAY AID U. S. BUSINESS

Accord Viewed as Possible Opening for Trade Deals with America.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct 23—Russian recognition has eclipsed all other international problems as the subject of discussion in official Washington.

It ranks with the domestic recovery plan as a major subject of conversation Prospective Russian trade is viewed promising stimulation to the cotton, pork products, copper and machinery business in this country

Electrical and agricultural implement stocks immediately were influenced by the announcement that Litvinoff will come to Washington to find the restoration of Russo-American relations with President Roosevelt

Litvinoff's statement at the London economic conference that Soviet Russia was a potential customer for [illegible],000,000,000 worth of raw materials and machinery challenged the attention of American factories short on orders and farmers without a market

Credit Offers Problem

He explained that long term credit and liberal terms would be essential to extensive contracts with the Soviet union Consequently the negotiations for Russian trade will not be without serious handicaps.

Washington awaits Litvinoff's arrival with eagerness

The Soviet commissar has negotiated more non-aggression pacts perhaps than any living man He influenced Soviet Russia to sign the Kellogg pact and has signed individual non-aggression agreements with practically all of Russia's neighbors except Japan.

Whenever a peace plan is proposed Litvinoff supports it But his most spectacular achievement in an international conference was the secret negotiation of a separate

OUTLINES GOLD CONTROL PRICE PLAN IN TALK

Seen as Move To Stabilize Currency After Boost in Commodity Costs.

MINING STOCKS LEADING

Grains and Cotton Follow Securities in Advance to Higher Levels.

By The Associated Press

Prices were given a sharp boost in American financial markets today by President Roosevelt's announcement of the government's plan to control the price of gold.

Shares in the New York stock exchange jumped $1 to $5, with a few "inflation" stocks registering wider gains, but slid back $1 to $2 or more from the best levels after an early wave of buying

In the Chicago pit, wheat and corn rose about 2 to 3 cents a bushel, and oats 1 to 2 cents Cotton advanced $1.15 to $1.50 a bale, in New York, rubber advanced about ¾ of a cent a pound

The dollar slid down moderately in foreign exchange dealings, with sterling quoted at New York at $4.81, up 9 cents The French franc rose .12 of a cent to 6.33 cents, and lost part of its gain.

Mining Shares Lead

Mining stocks were the leaders in today's gains Homestake Mining, a gold producer soared $25 to $325 and U S Smelting rose $12 to $90.

Although the swift advance was most pronounced in the gold mining shares, the whole market was buoyant.

U S. Steel common opened at $37, up $1.75 on a block of 2,500 shares; Union Pacific at $100.50, up $2.50; Sears Roebuck at $35, up $3; American Telephone at $114.25, up $2.12; Dome Mines $35, up $4.75; General Motors $26.505, up $2.12 on a block of 2,700 shares.

Wall Street was somewhat confused as to how to interpret the new gold program. While it was generally construed as inflationary some observers pointed out that President Roosevelt had definitely indicated that inflation would be stopped when prices reached the desired level.

Foreign Views

The announcement of President Roosevelt that the United States would go into the market for the purchase of gold was interpreted in some foreign capitals as an indication that America has decided upon stabilization on a sound money basis.

League of Nations circles viewed it as a move toward a stabilized currency, some of them commenting that a rise in prices would make the payment of fixed charges easier

Paris observers saw a virtual stabilization in the plan, one of them describing it as a rejection of inflation with "an inflationary bubble broken."

Roosevelt Plans Dollar Control

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 Firm control of the dollar's gold value today was added by President Roosevelt to the government's multiple efforts to lift commodity prices

The means of control was establishment of a government market for newly mined gold in the United States and the President's decision to buy or sell gold "whenever necessary" in the world markets.

Mr. Roosevelt announced the step as a definite policy, "to establish and maintain continuous control" looking toward a managed currency, in a talk to the country last night. He pledged specifically to boost price levels and eventually revalue the dollar

To Maintain Credit

"Government credit will be maintained, the President said, "and a sound currency will accompany a rise in the American commodity price levels."

Reviewing his administration's recovery campaign, Mr Roosevelt assured the people "we are on our way and we are headed in the right direction."

"When we have restored the price level," said the President, "we shall seek to establish and maintain a dollar which will not change its purchasing and debt paying power during the succeeding generation."

For the present, he said, it was important to tighten control over the dollar. Mr. Roosevelt added:

"As a further effective means to this end, I am going to establish a government market for gold in the United States. Therefore, under the clearly defined authority of existing law, I am authorising the Reconstruction Finance corporation to buy gold newly mined in the United States at prices to be determined from time to time after consultation with the secretary of the treasury and the President. Whenever necessary to the end in view, we shall also buy or sell gold in the world market."

Discussed Aims

Along with this new monetary action, Mr. Roosevelt discussed

MOTORIST FINED FOR PASSING SCHOOL BUS

T. P. Mangan Pleads Guilty to Charge Filed by Driver.

Results of efforts of the sheriff's office to check motorists from driving past school busses when not in motion were shown this morning in municipal court when T. P. Mangan, 38, of 534 Summit street was fined $10 and costs for that offense. Mangan pleaded guilty.

Mangan was arrested by a deputy from the sheriff's office on an affidavit filed by Emerson J. Dietsch, driver of the Pleasant township school bus. Dietsch said Mangan drove past the school bus on the Delaware pike while it was being loaded with school children.

D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, this morning urged all motorists to come to a full stop when a school bus is stopped along the road, in order to protect the lives of school children.

Deputies of Sheriff C. C. Fye also warned motorists that their campaign of patrolling the roads on the lookout for offenses of this kind will continue.

A Chevrolet coach, 1933 model, owned by Floyd Shoemaker of Columbus, formerly of Marion, was found stripped of tires, wheels, and seat cushions at Wyandot, Sunday police reported.

The car had been stolen here Saturday night from in front of the Lido apartment building, Mrs. Shoemaker told police. The right front window of the car had been broken by the thieves in entering the car.

The headlight bulbs, battery and gasoline in the car also had been taken. The car was brought to the Haberman Chevrolet Co. garage here.

ROBERT CAMPBELL NAMED TO CHAIR

Robert Campbell of 239 Gurley avenue has been chosen as a member of the capella choir of Wittenburg college, according to an announcement made by Prof. John Thomas Williams, director. The choir has been heard in national broadcasts. Only sacred music by the great composers is sung by the choir, which appears on all occasions in vestments.

A series of bridge parties for members of the club is being planned. Meetings will be held each Tuesday night.

Real Estate Transfers Reach 30-Month High

Thirty-Seven Deeds Filed in Week With County Recorder; Mortgages Total $24,675.

Thirty-seven real estate transfers, the largest number recorded in any one week since that of May 15, 1931, when a similar number were placed on record, were filed in the week ended Friday with County Recorder Paul Naber.

In the same period 11 mortgage loans totaling $24,675 were recorded. Of the total mortgage loans $7,400 was placed on rural property, $17,225 [illegible] property.

The city mortgage total was boosted by the filing this week of three mortgages by the Home Owners Loan corporation, the first three placed in this county since the corporation launched its program of helping distressed home owners facing sheriff's sales. The three mortgages placed by the corporation totaled $10,277. The amounts of the mortgages were $3,85[illegible], $3,531 and $2,714.

Realty transfers for the week follow:

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

"St. Vitus' Dance" Is Curable

Chorea, or St. Vitus dance as it is more commonly called, is a strange affliction of children. The exact cause of this malady has never been discovered. But it is probably an infectious disease caused by a germ similar to the germ of rheumatic fever.

As a rule the ailment occurs in early childhood but it may also afflict older children. It is most often found in children between the ages of five and fifteen. It seems to affect girls more than boys. It is interesting to note that the disease is rarely seen in Negroes and the American Indians.

I am sorry to say that chorea is often overlooked in children. This is because the child complains of no pain. But the disease should always be suspected in a child who appears fidgety, nervous and clumsy in his actions and movements.

The young sufferer from chorea is in constant motion. The hands, feet and even the head move about in aimless fashion.

At times the child is unable to speak or has difficulty in speaking. Though he speaks the words are choppy and indistinct. School teachers often pick out children who are sufferers from chorea. They are recognized by their dull [illegible] backwardness in school [illegible] loss of memory.

Chorea is [illegible] a serious disease but its complications are most dreaded. It is a common forerunner of [illegible] infection. For this reason [illegible] who suffer from chorea [illegible] be guarded against [illegible] heart involvement.

This complication can be prevented by careful medical supervision. If the tonsils and adenoids are infected they should be removed as well as all other physical defects. The victim of chorea should be kept at absolute rest in bed for at least three months. Some specialists claim that complete cure is possible if the child will be kept in bed for six months.

During this time nourishing food, necessary medication and medical supervision must be carried on faithfully. All exciting games must be avoided. In suitable cases beneficial results are obtained from certain baths which may be given at home.

Jangled nerves can make married life miserable

In so many cases it's not the big, important things that make married life unhappy. It's the little sharp words... the bickering... the nagging... the jangled nerves.

And the dangerous thing is that we frequently don't even realize that our nerves are upset until it is too late.

The more alive you are, the more high-strung, the more carefully you must watch yourself.

Homemaker's Question Box

Question—What is the food value of meat soups and broth?

Answer—Most people think that a meat broth or meat soup is very nourishing because of its delicious flavor. The fact is that they contain little food value, says Miss Alma Garvin, extension specialist in nutrition for the Ohio State university. They contain a large amount of water, a small amount of minerals, some extractives and maybe some fat. The value of broth lies in its stimulating properties and is given to invalids and convalescents whose appetites need to be built up. Broths and soups may be used to make nourishing soups by the addition of vegetables, rice, macaroni, etc. A very good soup may be made by beating an egg slightly and gradually adding the hot meat broth, stirring constantly so as to prevent the lumping or curdling of the egg. This is one way of adding an egg to the diet.

Courtney-DeBolt Wedding Read At Calvary Church

THE marriage of Miss Charlotta Courtney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Courtney of 284 South Prospect street, and Raymond DeBolt, son of Mrs. Warner E. DeBolt of Wilson avenue was solemnized Sunday morning at Calvary Evangelical church.

The single ring service was read at 7:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. E. Radbeaugh, in the presence of relatives and close friends of the bride and bridegroom. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. J. W. Baker played a program of nuptial music and accompanied Irey Halt in a group of cello numbers.

Mr. Halt played "At Dawning," Cadman, and "I Love You Truly," Bond and Mrs. Baker's organ numbers were "Dawn," Cadman, "Indian Love Call," Friml, and "Call Me Thine Own," Everly. For the processional she played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" and for the recessional "Nuptial March," Strang.

The bride's gown was of white crepe made on princess lines with a full floor-length skirt. The short sleeves were fashioned of rose petals and she wore a white velvet turban with white gloves and slippers. Her flowers were white roses.

Miss Ruth Eberhart of Akron was the maid of honor. Her gown was of pink crepe and she wore a short pink jacket with a close-fitting turban of the same shade. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. The flower girl, Jeanne Stauder was in pink chiffon and carried a pink basket filled with flowers. Kenneth Elliott of Columbus was Mr. DeBolt's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. DeBolt left immediately after the ceremony on a wedding trip through the east. The bride's traveling costume was a brown wool dress with coat and accessories in harmonizing tones. Mr. and Mrs. DeBolt will live at 190 Dix avenue.

The bride graduated from Harding High school in 1927 and has been employed as a bookkeeper at the National store. Mr. DeBolt graduated from Harding High school in 1925 and is employed at the Susquehanna silk mills.

The bride has been complimented with a number of showers since announcing her approaching marriage early this autumn. Thursday evening Miss Kathryn Zachman of South Prospect street entertained at a miscellaneous shower for the bride. Mrs. Winifred Harruff won honors in cootie. The guests were Mrs. E. L. Courtney, Mrs. Inez Courtney, Mrs. C. Z. Zachman, Mrs. Harruff, Mrs. Dorothy Lehner, Mrs. Tracy Zachman, Mrs. J. W. Baker, Mrs. Grace Smothers and Misses Avis and Corral Underwood, Mary Louise Rutherford, Ruth Zachman, Mary Jane Zachman, Rose Marie Baker, Elizabeth Zachman, Mildred Zachman, Georgia Wetzel and Delta Midlam. Miss Eberhart entertained the bridal party at Turoff's restaurant following the rehearsal Saturday night.

[illegible] crossed the hall and tried [illegible] drawing-room door. That too [illegible] her foot on the bottom step of the stairs when suddenly away above her in the darkness a door banged. There was the momentary flash of a torch just a sharp stab of light and then the sound of someone running.

Caroline shrank back against the newel. The distant door that had banged was wrenched open. Jim called out. The running feet came down the stair and passed her. There was a sound of panting breath.

The torch stabbed again. She made out the black outline of a man's hand and arm and a vague something that was head and shoulders.

Then he was gone through the baize door and with a rush of air and a swishing sound Jim had slid the banisters, jumped clear and was after him. It all rather took her breath away. Spiders, cockroaches and mice she had been prepared for but not a game of devil-in-the-dark.

She sat down on the stairs and waited for Jim to come back. She had to wait for what seemed like a long time. The silence settled round her. The darkness was like a thick impenetrable curtain. The air of the house was cold and dead.

Caroline couldn't make up her mind which would be the worst: to hear some terrifying sound, or to go on hearing nothing. After a little she began to think she would rather hear something—anything. The silence seemed to be stopping her ears and the black dark pressing against her eyeballs.

Then after a long time she heard Jim coming back—footsteps in the passage and the swing of the blaze door. Then he was crossing the hall walking quickly and firmly like a man who knows his way. He was actually passing her before she stood up and said

"Jim—"

His startled "Caroline!" came from less than a yard away. Then his hand touched her face, and she gave an odd little cry. It was like a game of devil-in-the-dark.

• • •

"CAROLINE! Where did you spring from?"

She caught him by the arm, holding him tight.

"Why didn't you wait for me? It's the horridest thing I've ever done in my life, coming into an empty, pitchy house like this."

"It wasn't empty," said Jim a little grimly.

"That made it worse." Her voice reached tragic depths. "I sort of strung myself up to bear spiders and cockroaches and things, but I didn't bargain for people running down the stairs at me in the dark."

"Were you there?"

"I was here—and he nearly knocked me down," declared Caroline quite untruthfully.

Jim spoke quickly.

"You didn't see him when he put the torch on?"

"Only his hand. Jim—who was it?"

"I wish I knew. Look here, come upstairs—we needn't talk in the dark—I've found some candles."

"I've brought you some—and things to eat. The basket's in the kitchen."

They brought it, and came back through the hall and up the stairs. Jim put his arm round her at the top and guided her along the right-hand corridor; then to the left, two steps down, a little way along, and three steps up. A door stood open.

Jim let go of Caroline, struck a match, and lighted a candle in a tall white candlestick. The light fell yellow and soft upon a queer room panelled with oak. It had five tall, narrow windows and a deep alcove which contained an old [illegible] bed with a heavy valance of blue damask. The windows were shuttered and had curtains of the same damask as the bed hangings. The fireplace was on the right of the door. It had a deep brick hearth. On the shelf above it stood the candle.

Jim shut the door.

"[illegible] and sit down. I've locked the [illegible] so we shan't have any more visitors."

There were no chairs in the room. They sat side by side on the bed and looked at one another.

[illegible] can only show a [illegible] image. It is like memory, [illegible] aching for reality. In the candle-light, Caroline looked warm, and soft and young. Her eyes were bright and her cheeks like damask roses. Jim could have kissed her for being so sweetly alive. She began to speak with a rush of words.

"Who was he? Why did he come? Tell me all about it."

"He came in through the back door. I'd left it open for you and I'd gone down to the kitchen to wait for you. Well, I heard the door and of course I thought it was you but before I had time to call out he switched on his torch and the light just caught his hand. I got back behind the kitchen door in a hurry, and he went on down the passage and [illegible] the hall."

— The — Marry-go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

DON'T DATE YOURSELF.

The first thing I noticed about the eternally young Fanny Ward when I met her was that she was not dated. As far as age went, she was as non-committal as a magazine rejection-slip!

The worst faux pas that a woman can make is to date herself! Especially in these days, when four out of five women are in business, a job or a profession.

There was a time when every woman was "dated," and expected to be. The debutante wore white organdie and a blue sash, the matron wore black velvet, point lace and diamonds. And grandmother wore bombazine and tied a bonnet under her chin.

But no woman is dated by her clothes, nowadays. All women, from 16 to 60 dress pretty much alike, and schoolgirls sometimes look more "old-maidish" and Victorian than their grandmothers.

• • •

Neither is a woman dated by her favorite songs. All the latest hits come over the radio; and it is nothing to hear four-year-old Betty and her grandmother both intoning "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf."

But there are lots of ways in which a girl can—and does date herself, quite unconsciously. You date yourself when you pull your long skirts up too conspicuously. It puts you right in the post-war decade—and the middle thirties.

You date yourself when you paint your cheeks like headlights, and when you wriggle on the dance-floor and when you use flapper slang.

But, most obviously of all, a girl dates herself by her manners. It is as passee now to be raucous and rowdy as it is to be prim and prudish. It identifies you with the jazz decade—and anybody can count up from there.

• • •

Of course, we have not gone back to the Victorian days. Nobody faints or blushes or lifts disapproving eyebrows. All that prudish stuff is with the plush furniture in the attic. But flapper-slang and public petting and post-war jazziness are positively prehistoric, too.

Manners are simple, unaffected and comfortable these days—but still they are "manners." Good breeding seems to be coming back with repeal and recovery.

The old hard and fast rules, called "etiquette," are as funny now as the weeping willow mustache. But unless you have savoir faire, aplomb, tact and a knowledge of the civil and gracious thing to say or do you write yourself down as either a "hoodlum" or a "has-was."

It is fatal for a woman to let herself be dated by the modes and manners of yesterday.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, Oct. 24.

A particularly lively and progressive day is presaged from the ruling planetary figures, although there is a conflicting situation calling for discretion and wise judgment in the manipulations of funds.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a year of progress and prosperity if they will use discretion in handling their funds and confine their dealings to large corporations, combines or secret societies.

A child born on this day should be efficient, ambitious, and should advance through its popularity as well as tactful and diplomatic management of its affairs.

Notable nativity: Sarah J. Hale, author of "Mary's Little Lamb."

Operated by a 1[illegible]-horsepower motor, one of the world's largest turning lathes has been installed in a German plant to handle steel up to 33 feet in length.

Given in Marriage

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Is Certain That Hugh and Her Father Suspect Lee Chow of the Attack on Dicky.

By ADELE GARRISON.

AS LONG as there is a scintilla of memory left to me, I shall not forget the ride to the hospital with Dicky after he had been shot from ambush.

Terror gripped me starkly, not for Dicky's condition, for I knew that the chance of injury to the ligament of his "drawing arm," was the only thing we had to fear for him, but terror of the same sinister hand which only an hour before had discharged six rifle shots at him.

That Hugh Grantland and my father shared that fear I guessed from the close watch they were keeping of both sides of the deserted road. And I had surmised that Hugh's reason for having Katherine sit upon the other side of Dicky was his belief that Lee Chow would not renew his murderous attempt upon Dicky's life while he was in Hugh's car, with Hugh driving and my father, Katherine and I the other occupants.

"Lee Chow!" I repeated the name to myself shudderingly, then wondered if my belief that he was responsible for the murderous attempt upon Dicky's life was a sane and reasonable belief, or was prompted by an imagination fed by nervous terror.

"Lee Chow Boss Man."

I reviewed the reasons I had for my belief that the hand of the high born Chinese friend of Hugh Grantland was the one which had held the rifle so covertly aimed at Dicky's head, and they seemed paltry enough in the light of ordinary common sense.

The wounded old henchman of Lee Chow had spoken of me in matter of fact fashion as "belonging La Chow boss man."

Save the terrible illness of Lee Chow caused by his receiving the jab of the poisoned needle contained in the sealed envelope in Marian's ox box, he had been acting queerly, and I had been conscious of his espionage upon me.

Upon this very evening, following his urgent mandate that I go with Hugh to the beach if he should extend me the invitation, he had asked for a private interview with me, had pressed me for the reason for my unwillingness to go with Hugh to the beach, had uttered vague threats to my husband and my children if I refused to listen to him, and then a moment later disclaimed in most plausible fashion any intention of threatening me.

The Attempt at Hypnotism

My father had bolstered my conviction that the Chinese had tried a species of hypnotism to [illegible] my attention, and that only his own intervention had prevented the success of the experiment. [illegible] the earnest conferences of my father and Hugh Grantland and my father's subsequent careful watch over me had [illegible] my belief that they feared [illegible] to me [illegible] the hands of Lee Chow.

Small [illegible] I decided at last, that [illegible] did come Lee Chow's [illegible] were the first to come [illegible]. Yet of [illegible]

Of one [illegible] I was sure and thankful [illegible] suspicion of Lee Chow. He had [illegible] sincere when he [illegible] my father's query [illegible] with the [illegible] he must have been the [illegible] of a bootleg [illegible]. His jealousy of Hugh [illegible] apparently dormant [illegible] was always so near the surface [illegible] the discovery of this [illegible] of Lee Chow's to [illegible] from life and de- [illegible] Hugh might kindle [illegible] anew even [illegible] common sense would tell him how far removed was Hugh from any part of the insane scheme.

Safe at the Hospital.

The breath of relief I drew when we reached the hospital could have been heard a mile, I was very sure. And that relief helped me through the tedium of the wait while Dicky went through the formalities of admission to the hospital.

When I was at last admitted to the private room where he was to stay the night I found him tight-lipped and grim, and knew that something was troubling him mightily.

"They won't do anything about this until tomorrow morning," he said, "so I shall have to stay the night. You'd better all beat it now and get some sleep, which is more than I [illegible] have. I wanted to be sure about this thing."

Punishment.

Public reception of General Johnson's invitation to the public "to crack down" on manufacturers refusing to hoist blue eagles over their places of business varied widely in different quarters of the country. Extremes of comment were heard on the Henry Ford case, outstanding of all those under examination at the time.

How hard did buyers of automobiles thump the motor magnate for his refusal to sign a code whose essential features regarding hours of employment and wages he was observing? An estimate is available by using figures for new motor car registrations in September. The NRA code for automobile manufacturers went into effect on Sept. 5 without being signed by the Ford Motor Car Co.

The Automobile Daily News for Oct. 18 gives registration figures of passenger cars in September for 23 states and the District of Columbia. These states accounted for almost one-half of the total registrations in August, and hence are representative of the country as a whole. The percentages are compared with August registrations, before the Ford company had taken its position on the automobile code.

In August, new Ford registrations accounted for 21 per cent of all new registrations in 23 states and the District of Columbia. In September, Ford registrations accounted for 20 per cent. In August, Chevrolet and Plymouth together accounted for 49½ per cent of all new registrations in these states and the district. In September, they accounted for 51 per cent. In August, Ford accounted for 30 per cent of new registrations of Fords, Plymouths and Chevrolets. In September, Ford accounted for 28 per cent.

It is seen that the "cracking down" amounted to approximately 2 per cent. However, in 10 states proportions for the two months were about the same. In six states, the Ford proportion was larger in September than in August. In only seven states was the "cracking down" sufficient to hurt business. If the Ford experience is a measure of the punishment buyers are willing to give manufacturers and employers refusing to recognize the blue eagle, NRA's boycott threat is exceedingly weak.

New Freedom.

In the midst of thousands of words being written about the imminence of national prohibition's repeal, a statement of policy by the National Distillers Products Corp. stands out in heavy relief. The statement, published as an advertisement in New York City newspapers this week, contains these important passages.

The first part of the corporation's answer to the question of what will happen after repeal of the 18th amendment reads: "We recognize there have been serious abuses in the past. We recognize also that there will doubtless be some abuses in the future . . . But we recognize most clearly of all that good policy and good taste alike dictate that we oppose these abuses by every means we may properly employ. To that end we pledge ourselves to stand, in every phase of our business, for moderation and not abuse—for temperance instead of excess—for the strict observance not merely of legal duty, but of moral duty as well."

The second part reads: "So much for our part of the answer—now how about yours? Will you not join us, and by using your new freedom temperately, help to safeguard the privilege which hopeful American men and women now are voting to give into our common care."

Declarations like these cannot be dismissed as only the tactful preparations of a distilling enterprise for a change in law which will bring enormous profits to it. They are more than that. In addition, they are the signs of an attitude which, if it were to be general among liquor interests, would simplify greatly the complex task of controlling the liquor traffic.

Significantly, there were few signs of such an attitude during the years when excesses were creating the disgust which led finally to the desperate experiment of national prohibition. Men had not experienced yet the trial of legislating liquor out of existence, which now has convinced them that voluntary temperance is the only solution of the problem presented by excessive drinking. On that point, progress has been made.

A CAMPAIGN FOR MARION

During the [illegible] week a series of daily articles [illegible] Star outlined clearly the functions of the Marion Chamber of Commerce [illegible] in particular to the major [illegible] service. This was [illegible] as a prelude to the campaign [illegible] membership and support [illegible] this week, and incidentally [illegible] upon the public mind the [illegible] of the organization. [illegible] to be underestimated [illegible] connected with the [illegible] quently not thoroughly [illegible] with what it does for Marion [illegible].

These articles explained [illegible] which the Chamber hopes [illegible] and also summarized some of the [illegible] ing accomplishments of the past [illegible] the entire story has not been told. It is not possible within the limited space of a few comparatively brief newspaper articles to give a detailed account of the [illegible] done by the Chamber of Commerce since its inauguration here. Countless minor acts of service enter into the record, which would fill several volumes if given completely. Only those who have had an actual part in the activities are in position to make a full and just appraisal of the organization's accomplishments.

It is possible, however, for all citizens of Marion to realize one thing—that a central representative body is essential for community welfare and progress. Without the guiding and directing force, the community is virtually certain to drift aimlessly, with scant possibility of constructive development.

In the past, the Chamber of Commerce has proved its worth in filling that requirement for Marion. No suitable substitute has ever been found. But to perform effective service, the Chamber must be a strong organization, with full measure of support from all business and industrial interests. By "full measure" is meant memberships providing virtually 100 per cent representation of business and industry, with those enrolled sustaining the organization's program through payment of dues and enthusiastic participation in the Chamber's activities.

To bring this about is the purpose of the membership campaign about to be started. Enrollment will be sought among those citizens who get the most direct practical benefit from the Chamber of Commerce. In other words, they are asked to give support to something which means actual financial returns to them. Unless a business man is blind to his own material interests, no argument whatever should be necessary to enlist him in this enterprise.

Without this support, the future of the Chamber of Commerce is uncertain. This campaign is one of the most important in the organization's history. Those Marion citizens upon whom responsibility for maintenance of the Chamber rests have the choice of three situations—a Chamber of Commerce equipped to function efficiently for Marion's progress, one weakened by lack of resources, or no Chamber at all. The second of these three prospects offers little if any value to the community. The third, hardly conceivable in a city of Marion's size and character, would be a backward step too serious for contemplation.

The need of a strong and active Chamber of Commerce is greater now than in many years. There is every indication that an era of economic revival and reconstruction is dawning and that the greatest benefits will come to those communities best equipped to take advantage of opportunities. The results of this Chamber of Commerce membership campaign should prove that Marion is determined to get its share of what the new era has to offer.

Jesse James in Uniform.

Fat salaries for officials of speed trap villages in the Cleveland district testify eloquently why thousands of Ohio motorists are following investigation proceedings with something more than polite interest. Those salaries were paid with fines collected from unsuspecting automobile drivers who got caught in the traps.

Many of them had their disillusioning experience with this vicious form of legal extortion years ago, but their grudges have remained active. Nothing has happened in the meantime and nothing is being turned up in the investigation to alter their conviction that the difference between a highwayman who works with a mask and gun and a village speed cop is too slight to give much advantage to the policeman.

It always was a case of the victim's word against his captor, and the captor never was wrong. When he pounced, and he was particularly fond of seizing motorists who lived outside the Cleveland area and weren't used to his racket, there was no relenting. He took as much as he could get, making the contribution as easy as possible for the victim unless the latter's temper proved stronger than his philosophy.

It was a fool-proof scheme while it lasted. But, as is usually the case, it was so good that it led to intemperance. The people are slow to anger, but they do get up in arms sometimes.

Highlights of Ohio History
BY J. H. GALBRAITH

OHIO'S FIRST SHOCK OF WAR.

When David Todd was inaugurated Jan. 13, 1862, as the second war governor no battle of great importance in the Civil war had yet been fought. His inaugural address was an appeal to the Ohio people of all parties to stand firm in the support of the Union. It was true as he asserted that the people of Ohio had thus far most loyally done their duty. But it was also true that they knew little about the real meaning of the war upon which they had entered. Three months passed before Ohio and her troops received their first baptism of blood in the war. On April 6 and 7 the Battle of Shiloh, otherwise known as Pittsburgh Landing was fought. Its sanguinary character brought the war home to Ohio in a most startling manner.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Tuesday, Oct. 23, 1923.

David Lloyd George, accompanied by his wife and daughter, visited Marion as a tribute to the memory of the late President Harding. At the Marion cemetery vault, the temporary resting place of the late President's body, the former premier of England placed a wreath bearing this inscription: "With deep respect from three citizens of the Old World on a visit to the New."

It was announced that two of the most important thoroughfares leading out of Marion which had been either partly or entirely closed for more than a year would be opened to traffic before the arrival of winter, [illegible] work on improvements [illegible] completed. These were the Marion-[illegible] pike and part of the Harding highway between here and Galion.

Behind The News In
Washington And Wall Street

BY GEORGE DURNO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 — If Senator Bob Wagner's national labor board doesn't take a couple of hitches in its belt pretty soon industry is apt to run off with its breeches.

This at least is the opinion of dispassionate observers who have watched the board wrestle with various labor disputes of late.

In a quite dignified way important industries have been upturning their noses at the agency President Roosevelt established to adjudicate strikes growing out of NRA codes.

Blue Eagle headquarters made much of a victory for the labor board the other day that doesn't seem to be so much of a victory on close analysis.

It had to do with the board's tangle with E. T. Weir, chairman of the board of Weirton Steel company, whose men were on strike for recognition of the union. This concern is a subsidiary of National Steel corporation.

Weir originally refused to heed the labor board's request to come to Washington for a huddle. Later he wilted. This was the advertised victory.

As a matter of fact Weir agreed here only to the principle he previously had said he would fall for while on his home base.

This was a provision that his employes could hold elections twice a year and choose whatever representatives they desired for the purposes of collective bargaining.

Weir remained adamant in his refusal to recognize the union and stood pat for the open shop.

Stet

Representatives of the automobile industry followed right on the steel man's heels with telegrams that they wouldn't be interested in coming to Washington to discuss strikes in their field.

The only result, they averred, would be a compromise. Later there would be other strikes and less compromise.

The board was advised that the industry (exclusive of Ford) signed a code and preferred to stand on its provisions.

Clear

General Johnson's pet expression of late is that he doesn't know the meaning of "recognition" as applied to unions. He usually adds the same thing goes for "open shop" and "closed shop."

His idea is that the codes are perfectly clear and must speak for themselves.

The only trouble is they're so clear to both sides that each attaches a different interpretation.

Herriot

Close students of French politics here are wondering whether the German crisis is going to be as much of a break for the Daladier government as Paris dispatches indicate.

They think not. In fact observers here look for the present French Premier to lose out.

Herriot, in their opinion, will return to power.

Hitler's withdrawal of Germany from the League of Nations and the disarmament conference as seen from the Washington angle, will weaken Daladier's hand. Many Frenchmen have been accusing him of being too pacifistic.

In consequence there are signs of a rally to Herriot. Although he is not a member of the Right he is expected to get aid from that wing—which shelters the munitions makers.

The Right Wing is said to be disgusted with Daladier's policies and ready to welcome any change. Herriot doesn't lean as far to the Left as the present premier. Also the German situation—as in England—is tending to lessen gaps between opposing parties and unite the French in a common cause.

Cabinets

A recent split in the Socialist ranks involving formation of a new National Socialist party under Leon Blum also is seen as a vital element in the French political situation.

The new party is advertised to support Daladier against the Right. Observers wonder whether this isn't a repetition of the tactics employed by the German Nazis who eventually turned against those they were formed to support.

They predict the National Socialists will serve as a bulwark against revolution from the Left. Look out for a reorganization of the Daladier cabinet in about six weeks, they say.

Committees

Although congress doesn't assemble until January many committees will be functioning in December preparing the way.

In addition to the need for preliminary work a lot of the boys have had their ears burned by talk at the crossroads. They figure it's more pleasant in Washington.

There are two committees which will not meet. They are the senate finance and the house ways and means sub-committees on foreign debts. Members of these have given up hope of getting any work to do.

Marine

Wallace White, Republican senator from Maine and father of the Jones-White Merchant Marine act of 1928, finally showed up at a hearing of the senate ocean mail subsidy investigation the other day.

Previously he had vowed he would not appear despite the determination of his Democratic colleague from Alabama, Senator Black, to press the probe. White had said he expected nothing but muckraking.

When he did take a place at the committee table his frequent interjections while witnesses were being cross-examined showed a determination to back up his Act.

Notes

Government clerks are much heartened because a telegraphic poll of senators and congressmen shows a preponderence in favor of restoring their 15 per cent pay cut ...They shouldn't have been surprised because it means the same 15 per cent to the boys on Capitol Hill...There are those who ask whether we are having government by the Roosevelt administration or by Brookings Institute .. Commerce, labor and agriculture are particularly well fortified with learned gentlemen from that institution.

BY JAMES M'MULLIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—Top flight New York bankers who saw crimson when Jesse Jones came here to push the RFC capital note plan executed the neatest about face you ever saw after a personal visit to Washington. One week after inspiring their directors to veto the plan they urged the same directors to adopt it. Only this time the camoflage about selling notes to each other is out.

Observe that two of the strongest opponents of the capital issue—Morgan sponsored Guaranty Trust and Bankers' Trust—were among the first to fall in line on the final roll call. Looks like a miracle.

What happened A smart selling job by better salesmen than Jesse Jones. For playing along on capital increases the banks will get a hearing for their own reform plan and freedom from criticism on credit policy. For refusing there was a government promise to get really tough. The choice wasn't hard to take.

Puzzled

The big time brokers subpoenaed by Pecora were left in the dark about the purpose of their summons. Some of them went to Washington to find out what questions to be prepared to answer. Nobody would tell them and up to the last minute they were wondering what next. Pecora has shifted his tactics to the surprise attack. The Wall Street legal battalions had nothing to work on and they sure don't like being up in the air.

Private

The development to watch for is evasion of tax payments by the wealthy through the formation of private corporations. This was a neat gag which lasted into the postboom era. Dummy setups would be incorporated in Canada or Panama to trade in securities on the owner's behalf. The resulting profits would be spread over several years instead of being lumped into one as they were filtered through into the individual's account by degrees.

At one time nearly every Wall Streeter worth over a million had one or more of these pet corporations in tow. The collective loss to Uncle Sam's pocketbook runs into the millions. It may have been legal but Pecora wants to know why.

Substitution

New York hears that the Thomas amendment treasury notes may get a workout soon in redeeming short term maturities which have been keep treasury officials awake nights. That's why the official explanation of the difference between greenbacks and "greenbacks." The idea is to get rid of the short term nightmare and throw a sop to the inflationists at the same time. Local conservatives are set to raise a terrible howl if the plan goes through.

Landis

All Wall Street agrees that James M. Landis is going to be harder than a step-mother's heart in interpreting the securities act.

But they don't agree as to the motive. Some say the stunt is to prove that the act will work as written and the investment houses can either fish by the new rules or starve.

Others equally well informed insist that the government strategy is all to the Machiavelli. Make the act so stringent it will be absolutely unworkable and then even congress will see that it has to be amended.

New regulations will be issued shortly and we'll know the answer then.

Humphrey

There is an ironic twist to the Humphrey removal that few people know. Strange as it seems, Humphrey was the real precursor of Professor Tugwell—so far as truth in advertising was concerned. He cooperated with advertising men in a long and now forgotten campaign to bar phoney claims from ballyhoo for drugs and cosmetics.

The principle which he accepted was that illegitimate advertising is unfair competition and so came under the trade commission's jurisdiction. He accomplished a lot on these lines before the New Deal was ever heard of.

Oil

The American Petroleum Institute will stage its private battle of the century this week. Price fixers and antis are loaded with statistics and gunning for bear with blood in their eyes. If the antis can swing the convention they hope to prove their point to Secretary Ickes before it's too late. Undercover feeling is very bitter.

Harry Sinclair will be in there battling for set prices. He owns lots of oil in storage and would dearly like to know how much he can get for it.

Sidelights

Farley is playing his old campaign luck. McKee headquarters are back in the Biltmore hotel .. McKee supporters thought they had a sure thing a week ago. Now they're feeling a little jumpy around the edges. Farley's prestige will take it on the jaw if McKee loses.

TODAY
Arthur Brisbane's News Review : : :

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—The world discusses President Roosevelt's message to Russia suggesting recognition and better business. Germany does not like it. Hitler's attacks on Russian Communism having caused the loss of German trade with Russia. Hitler, like some of our "best minds," thought he should be allowed to dictate Russia's form of government. Stalin thought not.

China thinks we approach Russia to protect ourselves "against a Japanese menace in the Far East." We are aware of no such menace. There will be none, for us or Japan, if we mind our business and Japan minds her.

An able American engineer, Professor Donaldson of Cleveland, expert on soviet industry, says recognition will mean jobs for 3[illegible]000 American workmen.

Britons like the Roosevelt move believing that it will help European peace. At least, Britain says that. The British do not always tell all, recalling, perhaps, the saying of the able Venetian Sarpi, "La falsita no dico mai, mai, ma la verita non a ognuno—"Falsehood I utter never, never, but the truth not to everybody." Or as Sally Wertheim put it, more simply, "If what I'm thinking, you could have me put in jail."

• • •

Huey as Drum Major

Senator Huey Long retains his nerve, or "pep." Speaking at Shreveport, La., from the platform of a private car belonging to the very rich Couch brothers, Senator Long urged the importance of "redistributing wealth" in the United States. Then, through the public streets, acting as drum major, he led the Louisiana university band to the baseball game.

Lafayette, La., American Legion officials asked the senator if he had said, "Most of the men who served in the World war were dragged in by the hair of their head." He said that was correct and added: "I didn't go, because I wasn't mad at anybody, and I won't go the next time, unless they make me, like they did a lot of fellows during the last war."

Senator Long is sometimes mentioned as a "probable dictator," if we ever have one. He would enjoy that job and says NRA is already a failure.

• • •

Successors to Dictators

Lloyd George writes cheerfully in an article cabled from London to all the W. R. Hearst newspapers today. He says: "Britain is making visible progress toward economic recovery. Since January our unemployment has been reduced by 566,338. At home there has been an expansion in retail sales. That means that the nation finds more money in its pocket to spend, the natural consequence of an increase in the number of wage earners."

Lloyd George sees "hopeful signs of an ascending spiral, more work brings good wages, these wages increase purchasing power, that creates a demand for goods, thus bringing more work."

• • •

Let us hope we shall develop a good spiral of that sort in the United States soon, and that our able men will talk less about dictators and revolution, and do more to help the general recovery.

President Roosevelt, who says we do not need a dictator, is right. It would be bad even if we had a successful dictator, which is hard to imagine. Countries now living under dictator control may live to regret it when these dictators go. The late President White of Cornell reminds you in his life of Von Stein that Frederick the Great, powerful dictator, was succeeded by Frederick William the Fat, "most worthless of the Hohenzollerns. Herein is seen the fatal vice of absolutism [dictatorship]. It demands a constant succession of men of genius and such a succession never has been and never will be seen."

Just as Prussia had William the Fat after Frederick the Great, so France had Charles the Simple after Charlemange, and powerful Charles the Fifth of Spain was followed by the miserably weak and murderous Philip the Second.

After Queen Elizabeth came the worthless Stuarts, after Henry the Fourth of France the feeble Louis the Thirteenth, and, to cap the climax, Napoleon Bonaparte was followed by the futile Napoleon the Third.

It is better, in the long run, to rely on the people.

Turkey's New Anthem

On Oct. 29 Turkey celebrates the tenth anniversary of her republic under the rule of powerful Mustapha Kemal. Before that great day every man, woman and child in Turkey must learn the new national anthem, called "March of the Republic."

It begins, "Oh what happiness were these ten years for us!" It ends, "The Ghazi (Mustapha Kemal) is before us. The place of this nation is at the head of all."

On Oct. 29 the Turkish ambassador will attend a New York dinner in honor of the Ghazi, whose achievements and many reforms carried out despite native customs and superstitions, have been phenomenal.

New Marion Beer Agency Now in Operation

Best Brands of Brew Always Available Here

Eight Trucks Ready To Make Instant Deliveries in Territory Surrounding City.

The Marion Distributing Co. Inc., of 150 East Mill street a new concern in Marion, is now ready to serve Marion and the sixteen surrounding counties with quality beers.

John H. Hall is president and general manager and J. Reynolds Nelson, sales manager.

Mr. Nelson has in the field seven salesmen, whose sales require the service of eight new trucks.

Th old Amicon building on Mill street has been remodeled and is now as fine a warehouse for this purpose as could be found in the state. Four large, special, ice boxes keep draught as well as bottled beer in perfect condition, storage is ample, there being room for five carloads of case beer.

The company will wholesale as well as retail and with their fleet of eight trucks immediate service may be effected. Service will be given 24 hours a day except Sundays.

All employes are Marion people. They consist of a stenographer, eight truckmen, two warehousemen, seven salesmen and a night watchman besides the officers.

A careful survey has convinced Mr. Hall no better choice of beers could be had than Schlitz of Milwaukee, Red Top from the John Hauck brewery at Cincinnati, Old Lockport from the Old Lockport Brewery of New Philadelphia, Elks Brew from Consumers Brewing Co., Newark, and Old Dutch by Krantz Brewing Co. of Findlay. All these will be carried in stock, draught or bottled. Regardles of taste the most discriminating will recognize one of these as the height of perfection in his judgment.

Newly Installed Machine Assures Snug Bearing Fit

The Standard Auto Parts of 182 North Main street, has just spent several hundred dollars for another new machine which positively will do work never dreamed of in the past in the fitting of main bearings and cam-craft bearings in automobiles.

By its use main bearings can be so perfectly fitted that even the tightening of a cigaret paper in one of the bearings would make the fit so snug you could not turn the shaft with a crowbar. Yet with just this paper removed the shaft can be spun with your hands.

This sort of bearing is almost perfect, its the kind which stops all vibration. It is absolutely knockless and will develop more power.

Any car owner would do well to visit this shop. A look around would soon convince anyone they should demand their work done in this specialized manner in the future.

Bibler Burial Vaults Are Highest Quality Product

The Bibler burial vault is absolutely an outstanding burial vault. It is chosen by many who demand the best, knowing concrete grows stronger with age.

A tunnel recently built under old London ran into Roman concrete so hard that it turned the edge of the hardest chisels. Repeated tests show that concrete, properly made, will outlast natural stone.

Engineers on statistics on the life of various materials proclaim that no living person can begin to estimate the life of our vault in years. Scientists have found concrete that dates back over 2,000 years, and is still intact today.

Our vault is constructed of the highest quality reinforced waterproof concrete, so as to give the highest compressive strength obtainable. The immutable law of nature which governed the designing of the Bibler Burial Vault, makes it absolutely positive in its protection to the dead. Water can never reach casket, due to the high pressure of air filled chamber; hence this vault will keep casket and remains dry indefinitely! It is lowered by an automatic device, silent in its operation.

You would not deposit $5,000 in a bank if you knew it was not sound, if you knew the money would gradually disappear.

Then why put $100 or more into a vault built of materials that are sure to deteriorate and reduce its value year by year.

Make your vault investment sound by securing a Bibler concrete air seal vault that—grows stronger and more dense with age—is sure to keep its value—will be worth more in 25 or 50 years, than now.

Obtainable through your local funeral directors at a very reasonable price, being within reach of all. You positively receive full value for every dollar you pay, as you are protecting those precious remains from earth weight, and the unsightliness of sunken graves.

Guaranteed Work Done by Superior Roofing Co.

Only Master Roofers Employed, Assuring Customer Highest Class of Workmanship.

There probably is more cheating in true value when it comes to a roof than any other material bought for a home.

There are literally dozens of different Asphalt Shingles, besides slate, fiber compositions and the old wood shingle.

Asphalt shingles have become the most popular yet in this field the number of designs, grades and methods of manufacture would astonish you.

The felt is made in any desired weight and quality and this weight and quality determines the true value years after the shingle has been put on.

The felt is treated in hot Asphalt, but even in this process much can be done that greatly cheapens the finished shingle. The Asphalt must be heated to over 500 degrees and the oil skimmed off to make a truly number one shingle. Many manufactures only melt the asphalt, allowing the felt to soak up the oil and little real asphalt becomes a part of the shingle. This method makes it possible to reduce the manufacturing cost of about one-half. Of course the purchaser loses in putting such a shingle on a building.

The Superior Roofing Co., 150 North State street, employs master roofers. It's no side line to them, their entire business is roofing, they must build the best of roofs to continue in business and this they do.

If in need of a new roof or repairs it would be advisable to consult this firm. Let a representative show you the real difference in roofing. Don't be fooled by some salesman interested only in his immediate profit, a man as a rule with no actual experience except in the art of selling.

NEW SCHOOL PLAN OUTLINED

'Jobless Education' Discussed at Meeting in Hotel Harding.

The first active step toward setting up an organization to administer the proposed "jobless school" in Marion was taken this afternoon as a group of educators, civic and business leaders met in Hotel Harding.

George A. Bowman, superintendent of city schools, who was appointed by Dr. B. O. Skinner, state director of education, as chairman of the county adult education council, met with leaders from all walks of life to organize the council which he will head. From this council, Mr. Bowman said, will come decisions on various phases of the present tentative plan.

First the council must canvass the situation here to determine how many persons are eligible to teach the work relief classes, Mr. Bowman said. These teachers who do not have to be certified teachers must either be on public relief or eligible to be receiving relief, he said, and must be residents of the county.

The council also must determine the number of persons interested in the classes and the type and number of courses to be offered. This material will then be submitted to state heads of the "jobless school" program before definite instructions as to adopting the schools will be sent here. The schools, so far proposed in 17 Ohio cities, will be financed by federal funds.

MRS. ALICE R. SLOAN SUCCUMBS AT HOME

Funeral for Widow of Former Cemetery Superintendent Thursday at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Alice R. Sloan, 64, of 289 East Walnut street, widow of Edward A. Sloan, former superintendent of the Marion cemetery, died today at 12:10 a. m. of complications at her home. She had been ill since July 1.

Mrs. Sloan was born Dec. 7, 1868 at Coal Grove, O., to John and Sarah Newton Rogers, natives of Lawrence county. Her marriage to Mr. Sloan took place July 12, 1909.

Surviving are four children, Edward N. Sloan of 620 Delaware avenue, who succeeded his father as superintendent of the Marion cemetery, Miss Mary Olive Sloan, who is affiliated with the Doctor's hospital in New York City, Miss Catharine M. Sloan at home and Donald E. Sloan of 872 Jonesboro road. Two grandsons, James and Donald Edward Sloan and a brother, Harlan Rogers of Ironton also survive. Mr. Sloan died Jan. 7, 1930.

Mrs. Sloan was a member of Epworth M. E. church where she was affiliated with the Woman's Home Missionary society. In club work she was associated with the Research club, a member of Captain William Hendricks Chapter, D. A. R.

The body will be removed from the Schaffner-Queen funeral home to the home of Edward N. Sloan at 620 Delaware avenue this evening, where friends may call until noon Thursday, when it will be taken to Epworth M. E. church. Friends may view the body between the hours of 1 and 2.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the church. Interment will be made in the Marion cemetery.

ROOSEVELT PLANS DOLLAR CONTROL

He urged the faster spending of ... works money and emphasized ... about banking ... billion dollar program for freeing deposits frozen in banks closed since January and the deposit guarantee becoming effective next January.

Looking up from the desk in the White House study where he spoke, the President explained his new dollar control.

"My aim in taking this step is to establish and maintain continuous control. This is a policy and not an expedient.

"It is not to be used merely to offset a temporary fall in prices. We are thus continuing to move towards a managed currency.

"Because of conditions in this country and because of events beyond our control in other parts of the world it becomes increasingly important to develop and apply the further measures which may be necessary from time to time to control the gold value of our own dollar at home.

Foreign Influence

"Our dollar is now altogether too greatly influenced by the accidents of international trade, by the internal policies of other nations and by political disturbances in other continents. Therefore, the United States must take firmly in its own hands the control of the gold value of our dollar. This is necessary in order to prevent dollar disturbances from swinging us away from our ultimate goal, namely, the continued recovery of our commodity prices."

Dealing with the agriculture problem, Mr. Roosevelt said he was not satisfied with the improvement in farm prices and would insist upon a further increase.

Highlights of Address

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Highlights from President Roosevelt's speech:

"Some people * * * want a permanent revaluation of the dollar first. It is the government's policy to restore the price level first. * * * When we have restored the price level, we shall seek to establish and maintain a dollar which will not change its purchasing and debt-paying power during the succeeding generation."

* * *

"The United States must take firmly in its own hands the control of the gold value of our dollar * * * to prevent dollar disturbances from swinging us away from our ultimate goal, namely, the continued recovery of our commodity prices. . . . Therefore * * * I am authorizing the reconstruction corporation to buy gold newly mined in the United States at prices to be determined from time to time. . . ."

* * *

Whenever necessary to the end in view, we shall * * * buy or sell gold in the world market. My aim * * * is to establish and maintain continuous control. This is a policy and not an expedient. . . . We are thus continuing to move towards a managed currency."

* * *

"Fair estimates showed 12 or 13 millions unemployed last March. * * * In the short space of a few months * * * 40 per cent of those seeking work have found it."

* * *

"During the course of the year 1933 and the farmers * * * will receive $400 . . . where they received $300 the year before. * * * I am not satisfied either with the amount or the extent of the rise * * * it is definitely a part of our policy to increase the rise and extend it to those products which have as yet felt no benefit."

Litvinoff Silent on Trip to U. S.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Oct. 23.—Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff hopes to travel incognito to Washington without revealing his route to America, the time of his arrival there are the identity of those who will accompany him.

This much was indicated by the foreign office today where officials flatly refused to reveal any information of Litvinoff's plans in representing Russia in negotiations looking to possible American recognition.

"And," it was added, "no information will be made public on the subject."

Officials denied he already had left.

If, however, he expects to catch the liner Manhattan as originally supposed, he would have to leave here not later than the night of Oct. 24, in order to embark at Hamburg at the time for sailing, Oct. 26.

GOVERNMENT PLANS HUGE FARM PROGRAM

commodities on all lands to a point where they will cease to pile up surpluses.

Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, is charged with the arduous job of harmonizing the multifold federal activities in the direction. Which means that he must try to balance the crop reduction program against the research work, federal aid to colleges and experiment stations, irrigation and reclamation activities and the public works administration's building program.

In the next two years, the government could, and probably will, spend around $350,000,000 for a 25 per cent cut in hog production and a 20 per cent reduction in the corn output.

Farmers To Get Cash

It will give about $240,000,000 to farmers for wheat reduction, $222,000,000 for cuts in the cotton crop and $5,000,000 to tobacco growers. There also will be spent around $130,000,000 more to buy hogs for the needy, and amounts yet to be determined to purchase surplus wheat and dairy products for the same purpose.

All these, of course, point toward reduction of crops and disposition of the existing surpluses. Most of the money will be raised by processing taxes.

In the same two years, about $20,000,000 will be spent on agricultural extension work, $5,000,000 on federal aid to state agricultural colleges, $9,000,000 for the federal experiment stations, and $22,000,000 for federal farm research.

POLICE ORDER BOY TO RETURN HOME

A 12-year-old boy, picked up by police Sunday at 11:40 p. m. at Main and Center streets as a runaway, was ordered to return to his home by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast.

The boy, William C. Young of Crooksville, O., said he left home on an urge to travel. He had hitchhiked his way here and was advised to use the same means to return home as no funds are available, officials said, to provide transportation.

NEW SAFETY PATROL STARTS WORK TODAY

North Main Street School Names Students To Direct Traffic.

The North Main Street school student patrol went on duty at noon today to do its part in protecting the students from traffic accidents. Empowered by Chief of Police W. E. Marks, who swore in the 12 members last Friday, the boys will direct traffic in the vicinity of the school at noon and after school each day, and automobile drivers will be under their command during these hours.

Two patrols of six boys each will direct traffic. Richard Williamson of the eighth grade is captain of the first squad and his first lieutenant, Wallace Butterman is in charge of the second squad.

Members of the two squads besides the officers are Clifford Lake, Ralph Markim, Robert Williams, Robert Turner, Leo Workman, Carl Walters, Harold Melvin, Carl DePriest, Herbert Rice and DeVere Wilson, all seventh and eighth grade students. Four boys from the sixth grade, Carl Reams, Wilbur Wingo, Jack Mason and Robert Detrow, will act as substitute patrolmen.

Court To Decide NRA Validity

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—The supreme court today announced it would decide on its merits the first case to reach it challenging features of industrial recovery legislation. It accepted an appeal by Leo Nebbia, challenging the validity of the New York milk control act, and advanced the case for hearing on Dec. 4.

PEACE CHALLENGE HURLED BY HITLER

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Oct. 23—"Peace and goodwill" has become overnight the ringing cry of German Naziism.

The slogan was sounded by Chancellor Hitler himself in a patriotic blast, which marked his personal plunge into the national election campaign.

Addressing massed storm troopers, he declared Germany's new foreign policy is aimed at genuine peace.

REPORT SUGGESTS LIQUOR SALE PLAN

against unrestricted liquor advertising. As a check, creation of an advertising code by the state authority was recommended. Unless some "reasonable" restriction was enforced, the report predicted, all liquor advertising eventually would be prohibited.

"Advertising," it stated, "artificially stimulates the demand for alcoholic beverages * * * All this is inconsistent with any idea of restricting sale of liquor to an unstimulated demand."

High Taxes Opposed

Equally insistent was the report against establishment of unduly high liquor taxes and retail prices, and the theory of taxation for revenue rather than "social control."

"Nothing will so quickly demobilize the moonshiner and the bootlegger and throw into chaos the corrupt system which they have created as reasonable liquor taxes and low liquor prices. * * * Low taxes are imperative."

"Proper" taxes on alcoholic beverages, the report estimated, should yield about $700,000,000 a year.

A warning against uncompromising "bone dry" legislation was sounded to states which may decide to remain dry after repeal. These states, the report said, have a "responsibility" to their wet neighbors, and "bone dry" legislation would make them a "paradise for bootleggers."

"Restrictive laws which cannot be enforced achieve success only on paper," it was observed.

Liberalization of control over beer and wine sales was urged, as there "is reasonable ground to expect that the taste of those who wish to drink will be diverted to the lighter and less harmful beverages."

The hope of the future, the report concluded "lies in laws soundly conceived and well administered."

CHINESE CONSIDERING R.F.C. LOAN REQUEST

May Ask Aid in Financing Construction of Plant by Ohio Firm.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 23 — A Chinese engineer may ask the Reconstruction Finance corporation to consider giving assistance in the financing of a huge steel plant at Canton, China, for which specifications now are being drawn by a Cleveland firm.

The Arthur G. McKee Engineering company is completing designs for a blast furnace and steel mill costing between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 to be built by the government of Kwangtung province, China, it was disclosed by William A. Haven, vice president of the concern.

Haven also said Chee Kin Ho, a graduate of Ohio State and Lehigh universities who is chief engineer and head of the mining divisions of the Kwangtung department of reconstruction, may soon confer with R. F. C. officials.

The Chinese engineer expressed the belief that since the R. F. C. has under consideration proposals for assisting American firms in selling factory equipment and machinery to Russia, it might also consider providing assistance in financing the Canton plant, which would be a potential purchaser of equipment from American manufacturers.

SETTLE READY FOR STRATOSPHERE TRIP

Hopes To Take Off From Chicago Tuesday for Cosmic Ray Study.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—Preparations were going forward today by Lieutenant Commander T. G. W. Settle, U. S. N., for his second attempt to ascend into the stratosphere for a study of the cosmic rays.

The big balloon was declared in readiness as was the scientific equipment to be carried in the gondola, and Commander Settle and Major Chester L. Fordney, U. S. M. C., who is to accompany him, were scheduled to arrive here today from Akron, O., in the hope that weather conditions would permit a take-off early tomorrow morning.

A previous attempt failed because of a leaky valve.

DALADIER MOVES TO FORCE VOTE ON PLAN

First Test Comes Tonight; Reports Gold Leaving Country.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct. 23—With the life of his cabinet at stake, Premier Edouard Daladier forced the issue on his program to balance the budget when he demanded an immediate vote in the chamber of deputies today on the vital issues of his plan.

Discouraged by parliamentary wrangling, he declared the vote was urged "for the country's sake."

The premier's friends said the only uncertainty is when the cabinet will fall.

They added that if this compromises the chamber of deputies, then the senate would be overthrown, adding that there was one chance in a thousand to frighten the chamber with the responsibility for the inflation of the falling franc.

M. Daladier told the radical Socialists over the week-end that "only yesterday 200,000,000 gold francs were withdrawn from the Bank of France," adding that foreigners already were speculating against the franc.

The test will come this evening on a proposed reduction in the pay of functionaries.

ARMED GANG ROBS BANK OF $25,000

By The Associated Press

BRAINERD, Minn., Oct. 23—Five sub-machine robbers overpowered 14 persons in the First National bank in this city of 10,000 today, shot up the inside and outside of the structure and adjoining buildings and fled with $25,000.

None of the patrons and employes imprisoned in the bank was hurt but at least four pedestrians were in the line of fire while bullets spattered against buildings and perforated automobiles as the raiders' car roared out of town.

FARM STRIKE FACES FIRST CRUCIAL TEST

Roosevelt Assurance of Higher Prices Fails To Halt Agriculture Holiday.

By The Associated Press

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 23—The national agricultural strike, already marked by picketing faced its first crucial test at the market centers of the country today, and apparently is to continue despite President Roosevelt's assurances of higher farm prices.

Information that the buying holiday will not be halted was given out by Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers Holiday association, who went to Chicago last night, where he plans to confer with A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, in the hope of enlisting "moral support" of that organization.

Reno said President Roosevelt's statement last night "contained no ray of hope there will be changes in policies which so far have proved ineffective.

Reno said he was confident the farmers would join the non-selling movement in "great numbers." This far, leaders in but six of the 21 states of the holiday association have officially proclaimed a strike. They were, Iowa, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Minnesota and Oklahoma. In two others — Colorado and Michigan, opposition was expressed.

MODERN PLAN FOR KITCHENS

[illegible] and Equipment [illegible] Be the Best for This [illegible] Room.

[illegible] kitchen—a bare room, [illegible], windows washed, [illegible] necessary furnishing [illegible] a delightfully [illegible] them to any woman. [illegible] plan to begin with [illegible] and to spend as much [illegible] will allow, on a good [illegible]. Have it laid properly [illegible] with a coat of floor [illegible] protects the colors and [illegible] dirt and scratching, [illegible] that only the simplest [illegible] with a damp cloth, will [illegible] its usual beauty. Re-[illegible] waxing when the finish [illegible] wear thin.

The Big Things First.

[illegible] important installed equipment [illegible] serves the most serious con[illegible] on the part of any house[illegible]. A good sink, selected to [illegible] right height for the user, [illegible] least one drain board and [illegible] space permits, is essential. [illegible] faucets will be more serviceable [illegible] equipped with one of the [illegible] types, providing water of [illegible] temperature easily and [illegible]. A stopper in the bottom [illegible] sink turns this into a dishwashing place, and no dish pan is [illegible] in such a kitchen.

Select Good Refrigerator.

Of as great importance to efficiency and health, is the automatic refrigerator. Select this piece of equipment from only the widely [illegible], well established refrigera[illegible]. Do not under any circumstances buy one offered at "bargain" prices by an unknown manufacturer.

The modern range is beautiful enough to belong in a museum display—and some models actually are in such displays in Chicago and New York, for they are designed by the foremost modern designers. They have colored finishes, beautiful lines, and the interiors are designed for great efficiency, having good insulation, easily operated oven and broiler doors and easily manipulated burners and units.

As in choosing the refrigerator, select a range made and sold by reliable companies. Its color may match the kitchen scheme, its size may be just right for the kitchen space, but if it wastes fuel, it overheats the kitchen and under-cooks [illegible], it is not an economical purchase.

A kitchen cabinet, if the kitchen space permits is a good purchase for you; with additional, tall narrow cabinets for supplies to stand at each side.

HALLOWE'EN LUNCHEON TABLE

Even the grown-up guests appreciate a touch of amusing detail when the party is Hallowe'en. Here the tablecloth is of finely woven crash with broad, coarse stripes of orange and pale green, and like many of the new cloths for informal use, this one is fringed. The napkins match the cloth and are also fringed.

The plates are black glass and they bare a fruit salad in an orange shell. The glasses have narrow black and orange stripes running around them, the centerpiece is a squatty orange bowl filled with autumn fruits—grapes, pears, apples and bananas, which beautifully carry out the Autumn color scheme.

A salad is served as an appetizer, the first course and is composed of tart orange jelly cut in cubes, seedless white grapes cut in halves, thin sections of orange and fresh pineapple. It is garnished with a cherry and dressed with a little mayonnaise.

BRIDGE LUNCHEONS OR SUPPERS

AN air of Hallowe'en festivity may be given the table or tables when serving these menus, by the use of orange and black candles (for supper), orange or black glass wares, and cloths and napkins with one or both of these colors present. Small favors, such as little witch, cat or pumpkin holders for candles and nuts, a centerpiece of black or orange bowl filled with harvest fruits or orange autumn flowers such as zinnias or calendulas, help carry out this holiday's atmosphere. The use of too much crepe paper and other cheap decorations is coming, more and more to belong to the church supper and other public entertaining. It is not popular any longer for home parties for adults.

Menus

Tomato Welsh Rarebit on Rusk or Toast
Olives, Pickles, Celery stuffed with Anchovy Paste

PLANNING PARTIES FOR THE CHILDREN

IN giving any party for children it is advisable to plan the refreshments so that they take the place of one of the regular daily meals. Usually supper is the most suitable time, easier for the hostess, and for the mothers who must "fetch and bring" their offspring, and who would most certainly have another problem on their hands if the party dishes were served between meals, or late at night.

A Hallowe'en supper party for children is easily planned and with but small cost. It differs from other supper parties for youngsters in the table decorations and novelties, and possibly in the color scheme of the menu.

Decorations Are Gay

At the shops inexpensive crepe paper decorations and novelties are to be had for this holiday. A table centerpiece, small favors at each plate, and a nonsensical cap for each young guest are sufficient, but additional decorations may be used, such as cut-outs of cats, witches, jack-o-lanterns and streamers placed elsewhere in the room. These are five-and-ten cent store novelties or found in plenty at the paper and favor counters in other shops.

Use candles if they are very tall and not likely to get mixed up with so much paper decoration, or if some adult is to be in supervision of the dining room throughout the time of table service. Orange candles with black cut-outs of witches slipped over them, are amusing and colorful additions to this festival table.

The Menus

Serve on paper plates, with tall paper drinking cups, paper napkins, and small favors around each plate. The plates and cups should be white, although the decorations on the napkins may be the traditional witch and cat and pumpkin designs.

An Orange Party

Chicken a la King on Thin Toast (stick a witch on a toothpick upright in the middle of the serving)
Small Sandwiches of Orange Marmalade
Carotts Glace, each on toothpick, like a lollypop
Orangeade with Slice of Orange in tall paper cup
Orange Ice Cream in Orange Paper Cup
Pumpkin Face on Toothpick standing in each serving
Orange Cookie, with Chocolate Icing
Favors of Black Cat Snappers and Orange Colored Dunce Caps of Crepe Paper

* * *

Meat Loaf with Gravy
Ramekin of Baked Beans
Thin Brown Bread Sandwiches of Cream Cheese
Banana and Nut Salad
Iced Chocolate Milk Shake
Vanilla Ice Cream, Cooked Fruit Sauce
Date Bars
Same decorations, dishes and favors as above

SPECIAL SALAD OF PINEAPPLE

SELECT a large ripe pineapple. Rinse off the outside, and do not remove the spikes or leafy-end. Cut the pineapple in half lengthwise, through the bottom and right on through the spikes.

With a sharp paring knife, cut out the fruit from the interior, leaving a shell of each half. Cut the removed fruit in small cubes. Sprinkle with French dressing and chill in the refrigerator.

The Filling.

If seedless white grapes are available, wash them, remove the stems, and cut in halves lengthwise, mix with the pineapple cubes and chill. Otherwise use large white (canned) cherries, removing the seeds and cutting them in halves. Cut dates in halves, and remove the seeds. Mix altogether; there should be one-fourth cup each of the cherries or grapes, and of the dates. When ready to serve, peel four ripe bananas, remove strings and quickly scoop small balls of the ripe pulp; use a small potato scoop or the scoop from the garnishing set. Mix the banana quickly with the other fruit.

Fill the pineapple shells, garnish with small sections of candied orange, and arrange the filled halves side by side, spikes pointing in opposite directions, on a large serving plate. Serve with whipped cream salad dressing (half mayonnaise, half cream, seasoned with lemon juice.)

FOR THE CHILDREN'S HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The children's party table may be gay with crepe paper decorations. The figures on each chair back wear an easily made cap to be taken off and worn by the guests. The picket fence and centerpiece come with cut-outs and moss and other decorations in packages wherever paper novelties are sold. Note that the paper cups have seasonable cut-outs pasted on them, and the straws also wear amusing little cut-outs. The doilies under the plates are cut from crepe paper. The scheme is orange, white and black. Appropriate menus are given elsewhere on the page for children's supper or luncheon.

Mrs. Campbell Discusses Serving of Guest Dinners

First of Series of Letters Comes from Star's Cooking School Instructor.

DEAR Readers in Marion:

So many times women in my cooking school audiences ask me questions which require a lengthy, and personal answer. One such question is "When my husband's business acquaintances come to dinner where shall I seat the man, and his wife?"

As a rule the woman who asks the question is one who not only must plan the dinner, but she cooks it and serves it as well. This means that her house is run on an extremely informal basis. But she feels, nevertheless that some rank and formality of procedure must be followed in her dining room.

Be Natural and Gracious

Actually such a housekeeper need only realize that if she is her natural, at-ease self, as gracious as she can possibly be, and as quietly efficient as good planning and experience makes possible, her guests will be happy, and the evening a success. When she announces dinner, her woman guest will probably rise and walk with her to the dining room. A few words: "Mr. Blank will you sit at my right hand, there; and Mrs. Blank, please sit at my husband's right, there." are sufficient.

The first course is on the table; a hot soup, or a chilled fruit cocktail, or a savory appetizer. When all have finished, the hostess arises, removes the serving plate, and soup plate, or cocktail glass and plate, or appetizer plate, as the case may be, and taking them from one person at a time, carries them to the kitchen. She removes the plates of the woman guest of honor first, then right on around the table until all are carried out.

Be Quick But Not Hurried

The plates for the dinner should be hot and ready in the kitchen. If she serves the dinner in the kitchen, each plate should be filled, and kept hot, then carried in two at a time, serving the woman guest of honor first, and after her right around the table.

If the plates are to be served in the dining room, the pile of hot plates may be carried in and placed before the host. He begins to serve them as soon as the dishes of meat, vegetables and sauces are placed near him, and he then passes the first filled plate to the woman guest of honor, then to the man guest of honor and on around the table until all are served.

While he is doing this, it is a good time to bring in hot rolls or bread, to re-fill water glasses, and to add final touches to the salad or dessert course in the kitchen; or to put the coffee on, and arrange the coffee tray.

These courses have been made as nearly ready as possible, so that a quick touch is all that is necessary, and the hostess need not be absent from the dining room more than a few minutes. She ought not seem to hurry, for this is distressing to guests although they may not show it. They can well afford to sit quietly chatting or perhaps helping the host pass the filled plates. The lack of haste, and the readiness of all parts of the dinner not only make the occasion one of delight to the guests, but these aids are of first importance to the hostess.

Plan Well Before.

Not only should a simple but delicious dinner be planned well in advance, carefully shopped, and carefully prepared, but the appointments of the table, the serving tools and accessories should all be in their places, and perfect for the occasion.

The kitchen cookery utensils should be washed up and out of the way, as much as possible, before the dinner is served; an apron easily slipped on should hang just inside the kitchen-dining room door, so that the necessary last moments in the kitchen after the hostess is dressed for dinner, and the moments between courses when she must be in the kitchen, will be taken care of. She should slip off the apron before coming to the table, and not appear in it from the time her guests arrive.

A mirror in the kitchen, a bit of powder, a little nail file, help assure this busy woman of last minute perfection when she must be in and out of her kitchen, play hostess in the living room and dining room, and cook in the kitchen.

When dinner is finished, she might excuse herself a few moments from the living room group, and with the door closed between dining room and kitchen, quickly carry things out to the kitchen, clearing the dining room completely of any signs of dinner. The dishes of course are left until after the guests depart. Then, a last look at herself, and once more she is the hostess, and joining her husband and guests in the living room, she gives her attention to bridge or conversation, for as long as her guests remain.

In later letters I shall give suggestions for laying the table and planning easily-served menus; also suggestions for the house where there is a cook-maid, or both.

Ruth Campbell.

RICE AND CHEESE IN GOOD OMELET

This like all souffles and omelets should be served as soon as taken from the oven. Hot white sauce should be prepared and ready to serve with it.

Yolks of four eggs beaten until [illegible], one half teaspoon salt, one fourth teaspoon paprika, one cup cooked rice, four tablespoons cream, one half cup grated cheese, four egg whites stiffly beaten. Poor First Period Brings Beating for Harding, 33-12

PRESIDENTS' RALLY COMES TOO LATE TO OVERCOME FINDLAY

Winners Outplayed for Three Periods Despite One-Sided Score.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

Playing football for three periods of the game and watching Findlay play the other quarter cost Harding High school's Red and Black clad gridmen another ball game Saturday. The Goldo horde from Hancock county coached by Ike Winters romped off with a 33-12 victory over the Presidents in a contest which was almost the exact opposite of what the score would indicate.

The Presidents can chalk up their failure to wallop Findlay to a combination of two factors, first their failure to awaken to the fact they were in a ball game until the first quarter was completed and secondly, their inability to hang on to forward passes. No less than four touchdowns were tossed away when slippery fingered receivers dropped perfectly placed passes as they sped almost unmolested toward the Findlay goal line.

Findlay Strikes Early

It required just seven plays in the first period for Findlay to score the first touchdown and start a scoring parade which lasted all of the first quarter. Whitcum kicked off to Riley on the Findlay 20 and on the first play, McKitrick lifted a mighty boot back to the Harding four yard stripe. Whitcum got off a poor return punt which went out of bounds on the Harding 32 and the parade was on. Three plays took the ball to the Harding two and Riley cracked the line for a score and Boulis kicked the point. Two more Findlay scores were recorded in quick succession before the period was over, Harding offering but little resistance. The quarter ended 20-0.

Findlay added another touchdown in the first minute of the second quarter when interference on a forward pass gave them the ball on the Harding three and allowed Severns to go over for the score that made it 26-0 for Findlay.

The Awakening!

After having looked on while Findlay was rolling up the one-sided lead, the Presidents suddenly came to life with the count 26-0 and proceeded to give the Findlay aggregation a thorough beating for the rest of the period. Whitcum and Frasler led the running attack, both ripping off long gains and Whitcum and Frasler took turns at passing for other long advances. Touchdown after touchdown, however, was thrown away when Harding pass receivers dropped tosses which ordinarily would not have offered the slightest difficulty.

Harding's first touchdown came in the second frame after Whitcum had taken a 40-yard punt around Findlay's left end and put the ball on the Findlay three yard marker. The big Harding fullback cracked the line twice and on the second attempt went over but the kick for the extra point was no good.

After scoring that one touchdown the Presidents continued to batter the Findlay line and throw passes all over the field to keep the golden horde on the defensive almost every minute. On numerous occasions the Presidents were within handing distance of the final line when a muffed aerial heave would break up the advance and allow Findlay to take the ball and boot it back out to midfield, from where Harding would have to start all over again.

Harding roamed up and down the field through the rest of the second period, through all of the third and half of the fourth before finally pushing the ball across for the second touchdown. The final score came when Whitcum faded back and heaved a 40 yard toss to Frasler who took the ball on the Findlay 40 and outlegged his pursuers to cross the line standing up. The try for point again failed.

Findlay's last touchdown came just as the final gun cracked, a last desperate heave falling into the arms of Polen, a substitute tanker while he stood in the Harding end zone. Buchanan, another sub, kicked the point to make the final score 33-12.

The Harding reserves squeezed out a 7-2 victory over the Findlay seconds in a preliminary game.

MT. VERNON BEATEN BY SHELBY WHIPPETS

Winners Outplayed in Second Half but Hold to Big Lead.

Running up a big lead over Mt. Vernon in the first half, Shelby High school withstood a strong Mt. Vernon uprising in the second half to score a victory over the Knox county eleven Saturday, 19-0. Shelby was badly outplayed during the second half but the Mounts could not register enough power to carry the ball across the final line.

Shelby scored the first touchdown on the second play of the game when LaBarge took a lateral pass and dashed 40 yards across the Mt. Vernon goal. A blocked punt in the second period gave the Whippets the second score and a pass, also in the second period, accounted for the third touchdown.

CRESTLINE, LORAIN IN SCORELESS TIE

Evenly-Matched Semi-Pro Elevens Put On Great Battle.

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Oct 23 — The Crestline Merchants and the Lorain [illegible] Foods battled to a [illegible] Sunday afternoon at [illegible] stadium.

[illegible] aerial attack of the Lake City eleven was unsuccessful due to the soggy condition of the field [illegible] powerhouse smashes, reverses and spinners. Wolfe, triple-threat star, was a constant threat, but the defensive tactics of the locals held the situation under control at all times.

Crestline's biggest opportunity came early in the final quarter when Burmon passed a lateral pass to Wilcox on his own six-yard line, and the Marysville wildcat advanced the ball to the Lorain's thirty-one. A 15 yard penalty inflicted on the visitors for unnecessary roughness on the plan gave the Merchants vision of another win but the Big Green invaders applied the brakes and the victory mirage was short lived.

Lorain came to life in the quarter, and with Wolfe and Ursie doing the brunt of the ball carrying, placed the pigskin on the Merchants' thirty five. After four Lorain attempts at the line, Crestline took the ball on downs and immediately kicked out of danger.

DEATH ENDS QUEST FOR BASEBALL FLAG

Phil Ball, Valiant Owner of St. Louis Browns, Succumbs.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Oct 23 — Death has [illegible] Philip De Catesby Ball's 18-[illegible] of producing an American [illegible] pennant winner.

The valiant veteran of baseball [illegible] yesterday of septicemia. He was [illegible] years old.

Since 1916, when he became owner of the St. Louis Browns, Ball had cherished the thought of winning a pennant. The nearest he ever reached the pinnacle was in 1922 when the Browns finished in second place trailing the New York Yankees by one game.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Ball home here, with burial in Bellefontaine cemetery.

OHIO STATE STARTS DRILL FOR TUSSLE WITH NORTHWESTERN

Prepare for Wildcats

And so today the Buckeyes turn their backs on Saturday's holocaust and start preparations for the invasion of the Northwestern Wildcat this week.

In two other Ohio football camps, coaches are probably following Willaman's line of talk. At Case, Ray Ride [illegible] restore confidence in his team after the 14 to 7 defeat handed it Saturday by Baldwin-Wallace. It was the first setback for the Rough Riders since 1931. This week the Scientists meet Oberlin at Cleveland at the same time Baldwin-Wallace takes on Western Reserve.

Down at Miami Coach Frank Wilton will be pulling his ex-Buckeye Athletic association champions together after their stunning defeat at Ohio university Saturday, 6 to 0, gained by two place kicks in the first quarter by a sophomore quarterback. Both Miami and Ohio have comparatively easy games this week, the Oxford lads taking on Wittenberg, which was beaten decisively Saturday by Wesleyan, and Ohio meets Transylvania.

Wesleyan will take on its old rival Denison at Granville in a game that should be a breather for the Bishops, although Denison chalked up its first victory of the season last week at the expense of Otterbein, 12 to 0. The Westerville team will try a comeback against Ohio Northern. The Polar Bears were defeated by Bowling Green Saturday. The latter team will play at Toledo.

Wooster vs. Muskies

One of the outstanding games of the week as far as Ohio colleges are concerned, will be played at New Concord, where Wooster and Muskingum, two of the front runners of the Ohio conference tangle.

The Ohio conference schedule gets under way with a lone game Friday night when Dayton goes to Cleveland for a try at John Carroll's strong team. The conference struggles continue the following afternoon with Ashland at Akron; Kent at Hiram and Mount Union at Heidelberg, beside those already mentioned. In a non-league affair, John Marshall is scheduled to play at Findlay.

Several other Ohio State elevens will meet out-of-state foes Saturday. Marietta will play Allegheny at Meadville; Cincinnati entertains Butler and Centre plays at Xavier, Kenyon will go to Rochester, Wilberforce to Langston Okla. and Defiance to Orchard Lake Mich. for a go with St. Mary's.

The concluding game on the week's schedule will see Bluffton entertaining Earlham.

SATURDAY STARS

By The Associated Press

Bucky Bryan, Tulane—Returned Georgia Tech kickoff 101 yards for only touchdown of game.

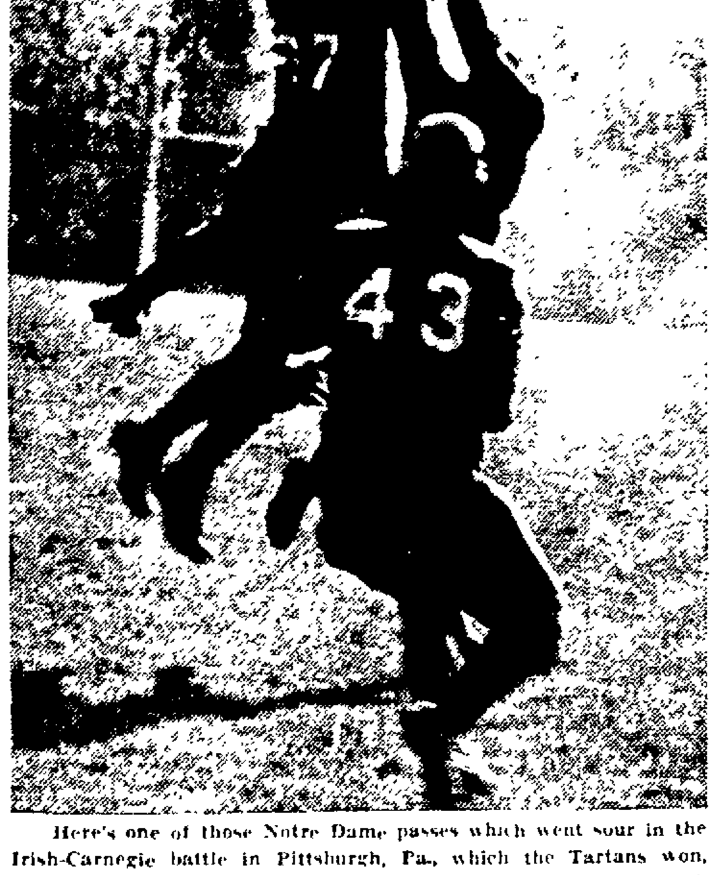
Norman Franklin, Oregon State—Intercepted two Southern California passes and held Trojans off by fine kicking in scoreless tie.

Bunny Burzio, Carnegie Tech—Recovered Notre Dame fumble, leading to touchdown and 7-0 victory.

Red Baumberger, Navy—Intercepted pass and sprinted 97 yards for score that beat Virginia, 13-7.

Joe Laws, Iowa — Tallied twice against Wisconsin, once on 39-yard run.

AS CARNEGIE TECH UPSETS IRISH



Here's one of those Notre Dame passes which went sour in the Irish-Carnegie battle in Pittsburgh, Pa., which the Tartans won, 7-0. Several Tech players are shown knocking down the ball. A Notre Dame fumble early in the game resulted in the Tech score. Irish passes failed in a comeback attempt.

More Surprises Awaiting Football Fans This Week

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—The nation's football legions face the fourth Saturday in October with many perennial favorites already overthrown, the list of unbeaten teams dwindling fast and further foreworks promised.

The downfall of Pitt's Panther and Notre Dame and the tieing of Southern California last Saturday proved anew the shaky foundations on which football reputations rest.

The usual Monday morning recount taken on the basis of last week's results, indicates temporary leadership at least can be assigned to Michigan and Nebraska in the midwest, Duke and Alabama in the south, Princeton, Fordham and perhaps Army in the east, Arkansas and Southern Methodist in the southwest, Utah in the Rocky mountain district and Southern California and Stanford in the far west.

The prospects for this week's slate, headed by such pairings as Southern California-California, Yale-Army, Penn-Navy, Harvard-Dartmouth, Fordham - Alabama, Notre Dame-Pitt and Iowa-Minnesota follow.

Eastern Schedule

East: Princeton and Fordham look most powerful right now but Yale, Army, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, Carnegie Tech, Syracuse, Colgate and Duquesne still are unbeaten and untied. This week Yale and Army collide at New Haven, Fordham must tackle formidable Alabama and Dartmouth faces Harvard. Holy Cross, conqueror of Harvard and Colgate, unimpressive against New York university, may find Brown and Lafayette respectively, somewhat tough. Princeton and Syracuse confront intersectional foes. The rampant Tigers, whose 20-0 route of Columbia marked the first major victory since 1928, meet Washington & Lee who upset Kentucky last week. Syracuse travels west to face Michigan State. Carnegie plays an old rival in Washington & Jefferson.

Midwest—Michigan on the basis of its great showing against Ohio State looks like the class of the conference and should beat Chicago. Iowa's Hawkeyes, conquerors of Northwestern and Wisconsin, tackle Minnesota's Gophers who blasted Pitt's national championship aspirations last week. Purdue looks too good for Wisconsin and Ohio State will try to get going against Northwestern. What looked like one of the season's classics a month ago, Pitt vs. Notre Dame at South Bend, now is just a game between beaten elevens. Nebraska carries its Big Six title hopes against Oklahoma with Missouri and Iowa State, Kansas and Kansas State clashing in other conference duels.

Old Rivals Meet

Pacific Coast—Southern California forgets its scoreless tie with Oregon State, breaking a string of 25 consecutive victories to concentrate on the annual battle with California. Stanford meets Washington. Oregon the leader with two triumphs, will find U. C. L. A. tough.

South — Georgia's tussle with New York University tops a program otherwise marked by three Southeastern, two Southern conference games, and three contests pitting representatives of each against one another.

Southwest—Arkansas and Southern Methodist meet in the most important clash with the former apparently holding the edge.

CARNERA CLINGS TO HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE BY BEATING SPANIARD

Italian Draws Boos, However, for Failure To Win by Knockout.

By The Associated Press

ROME, Oct 23—Primo Carnera's first heavyweight title defense, successful though it was, added little to the mammoth Italian's prestige in his native land today.

A crowd of 70,000 Carnera fans watched the huge champion punch out a decisive 15-round victory over Paulino Uzcudun yesterday, cheered him for a while and then booed him just as heartily in the last two rounds for his failure to stop the 34-year old Spanish veteran.

There was no question whatever as to the ultimate winner after the first couple of rounds. Carnera smashed the Basque woodchopper all over the ring yet never could he floor his rival whose courage alone carried him through the full 15-round limit. Paulino was on the receiving end from the start, his rushes were smothered in the Italian's mighty arms, he was bleeding from the fifth round on, yet he never quit trying, and at the finish, he was still taking the best Carnera could offer.

The crowd, which included Premier Mussolini, other Fascist officials and James Roosevelt, eldest son of the American President, couldn't understand how a man could take such a beating and remain erect.

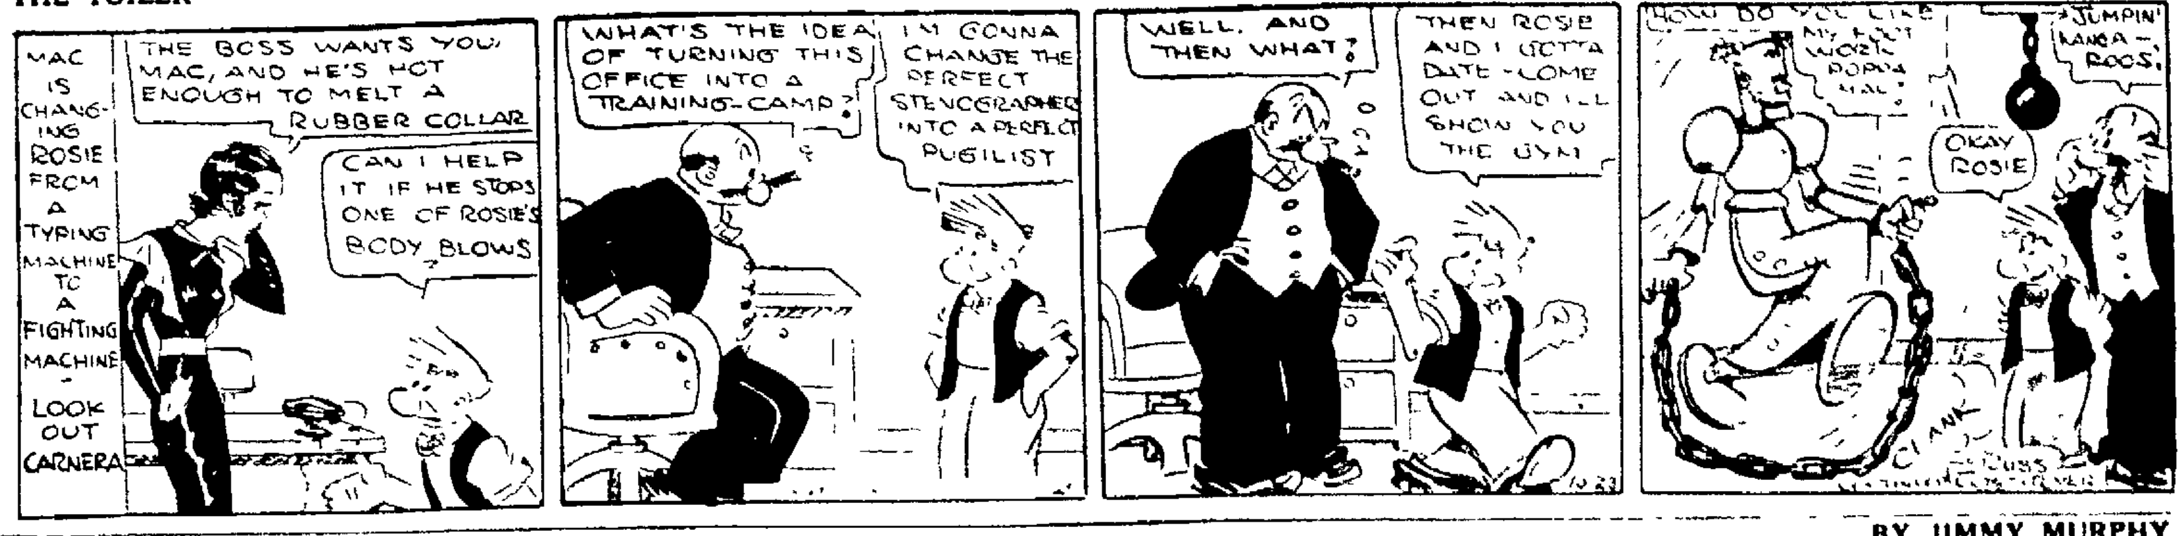
TILLIE THE TOILER

BY RUSS WESTOVER



MAC IS CHANGING ROSIE FROM A TYPING MACHINE TO A FIGHTING MACHINE — LOOK OUT CARNERA
THE BOSS WANTS YOU, MAC, AND HE'S HOT ENOUGH TO MELT A RUBBER COLLAR
CAN I HELP IT IF HE STOPS ONE OF ROSIE'S BODY BLOWS
WHAT'S THE IDEA OF TURNING THIS OFFICE INTO A TRAINING-CAMP?
I'M GONNA CHANGE THE PERFECT STENOGRAPHER INTO A PERFECT PUGILIST
WELL, AND THEN WHAT?
THEN ROSIE AND I GOTTA DATE—COME OUT AND I'LL SHOW YOU THE GYM
HOW DO YOU LIKE MY FOOT WORK, POPPA MAC?
JUMPIN' KANGA—ROOS!
OKAY ROSIE

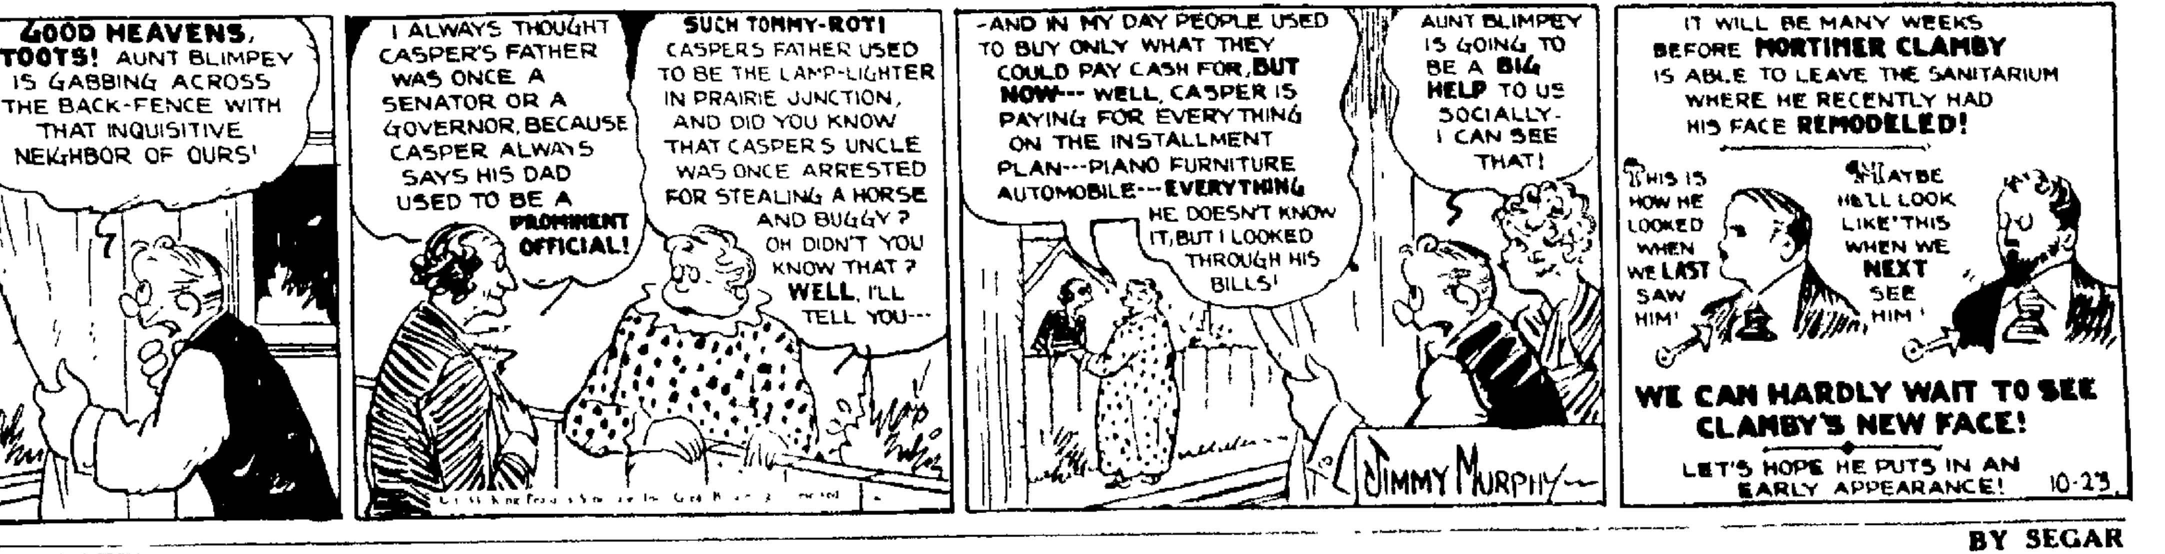
TOOTS AND CASPER

BY JIMMY MURPHY



GOOD HEAVENS, TOOTS! AUNT BLIMPEY IS GABBING ACROSS THE BACK-FENCE WITH THAT INQUISITIVE NEIGHBOR OF OURS!
I ALWAYS THOUGHT CASPER'S FATHER WAS ONCE A SENATOR OR A GOVERNOR, BECAUSE CASPER ALWAYS SAYS HIS DAD USED TO BE A PROMINENT OFFICIAL!
SUCH TOMMY-ROT! CASPER'S FATHER USED TO BE THE LAMP-LIGHTER IN PRAIRIE JUNCTION, AND DID YOU KNOW THAT CASPER'S UNCLE WAS ONCE ARRESTED FOR STEALING A HORSE AND BUGGY? OH DIDN'T YOU KNOW THAT? WELL, I'LL TELL YOU—
—AND IN MY DAY PEOPLE USED TO BUY ONLY WHAT THEY COULD PAY CASH FOR, BUT NOW— WELL, CASPER IS PAYING FOR EVERYTHING ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN—PIANO FURNITURE AUTOMOBILE—EVERYTHING HE DOESN'T KNOW IT, BUT I LOOKED THROUGH HIS BILLS!
AUNT BLIMPEY IS GOING TO BE A BIG HELP TO US SOCIALLY—I CAN SEE THAT!
JIMMY MURPHY
IT WILL BE MANY WEEKS BEFORE MORTIMER CLAMBY IS ABLE TO LEAVE THE SANITARIUM WHERE HE RECENTLY HAD HIS FACE REMODELED!
THIS IS HOW HE LOOKED WHEN WE LAST SAW HIM!
MAYBE HE'LL LOOK LIKE THIS WHEN WE NEXT SEE HIM!
WE CAN HARDLY WAIT TO SEE CLAMBY'S NEW FACE!
LET'S HOPE HE PUTS IN AN EARLY APPEARANCE!

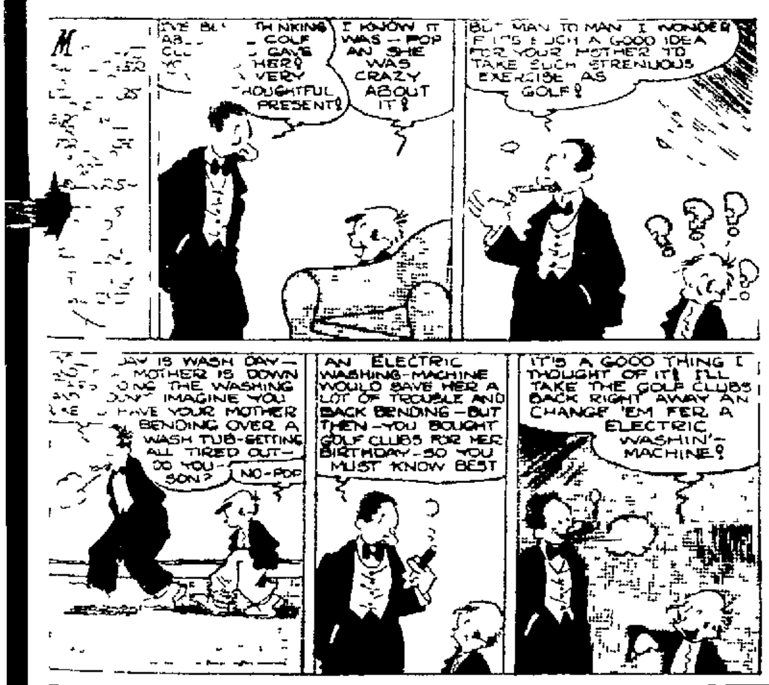
JUST KIDS

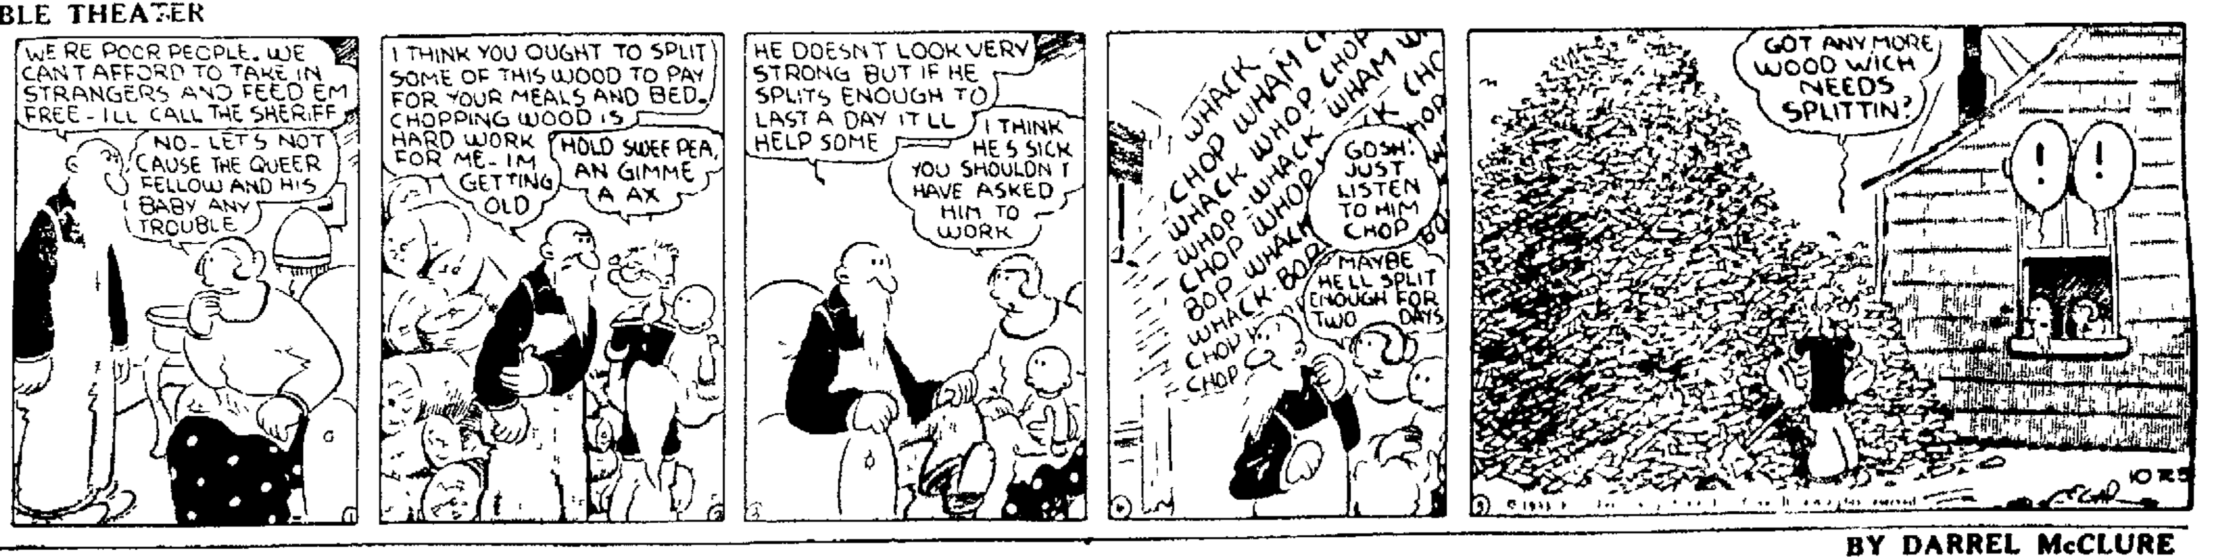
BY AD CARTER



I'VE BEEN THINKING ABOUT THE GOLF CLUBS YOU GAVE HER? A VERY THOUGHTFUL PRESENT?
I KNOW IT WAS—POP AN SHE WAS CRAZY ABOUT IT?
BUT MAN TO MAN I WONDER IF IT'S SUCH A GOOD IDEA FOR YOUR MOTHER TO TAKE SUCH STRENUOUS EXERCISE AS GOLF?
TODAY IS WASH DAY— MOTHER IS DOWN DOING THE WASHING I DON'T IMAGINE YOU LIKE TO HAVE YOUR MOTHER BENDING OVER A WASH TUB—GETTING ALL TIRED OUT—DO YOU—SON?
NO-POP
AN ELECTRIC WASHING-MACHINE WOULD SAVE HER A LOT OF TROUBLE AND BACK BENDING—BUT THEN—YOU BOUGHT GOLF CLUBS FOR HER BIRTHDAY—SO YOU MUST KNOW BEST
IT'S A GOOD THING I THOUGHT OF IT! I'LL TAKE THE GOLF CLUBS BACK RIGHT AWAY AN CHANGE 'EM FER A ELECTRIC WASHIN'-MACHINE?

THIMBLE THEATER

BY SEGAR



WE'RE POOR PEOPLE. WE CAN'T AFFORD TO TAKE IN STRANGERS AND FEED EM FREE—I'LL CALL THE SHERIFF
NO—LET'S NOT CAUSE THE QUEER FELLOW AND HIS BABY ANY TROUBLE
I THINK YOU OUGHT TO SPLIT SOME OF THIS WOOD TO PAY FOR YOUR MEALS AND BED. CHOPPING WOOD IS HARD WORK FOR ME—I'M GETTING OLD
HOLD SWEE'PEA, AN GIMME A AX
HE DOESN'T LOOK VERY STRONG BUT IF HE SPLITS ENOUGH TO LAST A DAY IT'LL HELP SOME
I THINK HE'S SICK YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE ASKED HIM TO WORK
WHACK CHOP WHAM WHOP CHOP WHACK WHOP WHACK WHAM BOP WHOP WHACK CHOP CHOP GOSH! JUST LISTEN TO HIM CHOP
MAYBE HE'LL SPLIT ENOUGH FOR TWO DAYS
GOT ANY MORE WOOD WICH NEEDS SPLITTIN?

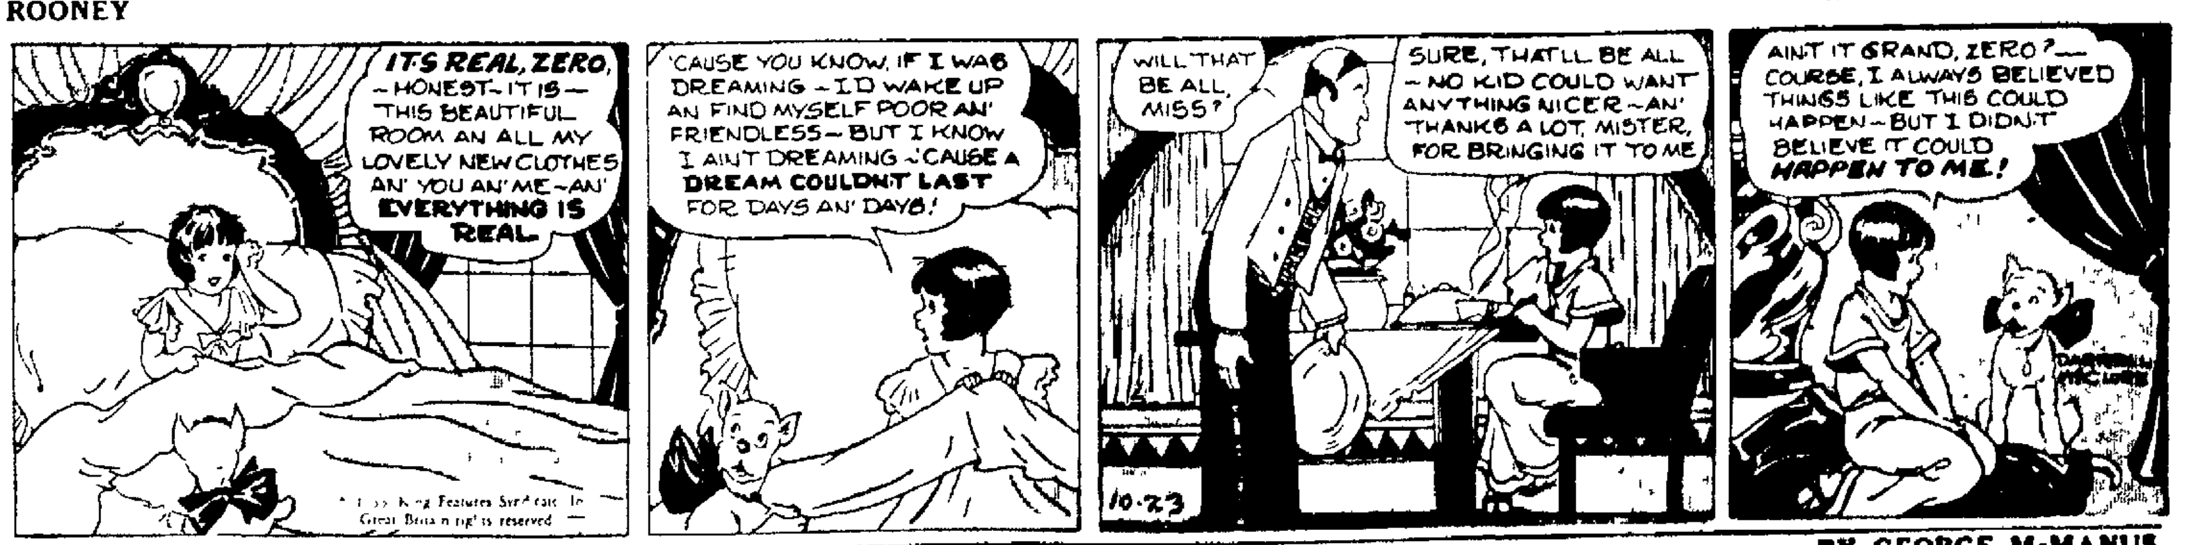
ANNIE ROONEY

BY DARREL McCLURE



IT'S REAL, ZERO, —HONEST—IT IS—THIS BEAUTIFUL ROOM AN ALL MY LOVELY NEW CLOTHES AN' YOU AN' ME—AN' EVERYTHING IS REAL
'CAUSE YOU KNOW, IF I WAS DREAMING—I'D WAKE UP AN FIND MYSELF POOR AN' FRIENDLESS—BUT I KNOW I AIN'T DREAMING—'CAUSE A DREAM COULDN'T LAST FOR DAYS AN' DAYS!
WILL THAT BE ALL, MISS?
SURE, THAT'LL BE ALL —NO KID COULD WANT ANYTHING NICER—AN' THANKS A LOT, MISTER, FOR BRINGING IT TO ME
AIN'T IT GRAND, ZERO?— COURSE, I ALWAYS BELIEVED THINGS LIKE THIS COULD HAPPEN—BUT I DIDN'T BELIEVE IT COULD HAPPEN TO ME!

TRUAX SEES CHANGE IN U.S. ECONOMY ACT

Also Issues Statement on Farm Speculation Attributed To Roosevelt.

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 23—Congressman Charles W. Truax, Democrat, has a statement he says President Roosevelt authorized him to make on speculation in farm commodities, and also predicts the President will suggest to congress that it remove what Truax terms "injustices" from the national economy act.

Speaking at a district meeting of the United Spanish war veterans, Truax said the President had authorized him to make the following statement:

"I (the President) fully realize the evil effects of the uncontrolled speculative operations in food commodities. This speculative activity must be drastically curbed and regulated."

The Ohio congressman visited the White House last week.

He told veterans attending the meeting the next session of congress "will, probably prompted by the President's advice, wipe out many of the injustices done the veterans by the economy act

WHEAT SOARS TO HIGH LEVEL

Roosevelt Address Causes Prices To Skyrocket at Chicago.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—President Roosevelt's address to the nation [illegible] wheat prices go soaring today reaching a point 19 cents above last week's low, the bottommost point this season.

An outstanding feature of today's trading was [illegible] scarcity of wheat offerings. Aside from the President's announcement of a policy of higher prices for farm [illegible] much notice was also taken of his free gold market plan which leading experts here construed as likely to accomplish in a gradual manner the same effect as revaluation of the dollar.

Wheat closed strong 3⅜-4¼ cents above Saturday's finish, corn and oats both 2¼-3 cents up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25 cents.

Wool Market.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 23—Quotations on domestic wools are being firmly [illegible] despite the quietness [illegible] during the greater part of October. Reports of [illegible] this season in several [illegible] producing countries is stimulating a firm price attitude on the part of holders of domestic wools in the Boston market.

Estimated receipts of domestic wool at Boston, reported to the Boston grain and flour exchange, during the week ending Oct. [illegible] amounted to 3,105,100 pounds as compared with 2,531,200 during the previous week.

Bucyrus Boy In O. W. U. "Housekeeping" Group

In a minute Jack Palmer of Ft. Wayne, Ind., may drop his spoon and Jim Barrett of Bucyrus, O., put his dish towel aside while both rush to prepare for tomorrow's classes at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, O. They're two of the 21 students whose cooperative house cuts expenses to the bone.

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 23—Four and twenty huskies are turning out pies and doing other household tasks to snip living expenses at Ohio Wesleyan university this year.

The men have taken a page out of the co-eds' book in conducting a cooperative house. Women students have operated three similar houses successively.

Dr. Edmund D. Soper, university resident, is enthusiastic over this newest attempt to help students help themselves, with part-time jobs now at a minimum.

The house was furnished by the school and the "go" signal given.

Donning aprons cooking flapjacks and sausage, sprinkling salt in the soup dusting furniture making beds and scrubbing floors the boys began at once to get a liberal education in housekeeping.

However tedious their tasks, they can look forward to lopping off a great part of the ordinary living expense, for the weekly cost they estimate, won't be more than $5 each.

Furthermore, the folks at home can send potatoes, beans, meat and other edibles to apply on their accounts thus reducing the cash outlay even further.

Vision, Thyroid Trouble Most Common in Students

Impaired vision and thyroid (small goiter) trouble are the most common physical defects found among the Marion county high school pupils examined by Dr. N. Sifritt, county health commissioner, to determine whether the pupils are eligible to participate in athletics. Dr. Sifritt has been assisted in this work by Miss Alma Denney, acting county health nurse.

In four schools in which students planning to participate in athletics were examined, Dr. Sifritt found thyroid ailments in 37 out of 127 pupils examined. Outstanding vision defects were found in 30.

A small per cent of those with thyroid trouble were found to have rapid hearts. They were urged, Dr. Sifritt said, to avoid the strenuous exercise of inter-school competition but were not barred from athletics.

All pupils planning to participate in inter-school contests are required by the county board of education and the county health board to be vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria, Dr. Sifritt said.

Pupils taking part in athletics were found to be in better physical condition than those who did not, principally because those in athletics quickly discover their physical defects and seek to remedy them, and also observe better health habits while in training, Dr. Sifritt said.

MARION SPEAKERS ON CLARIDON PROGRAM

Annual Sunday School Meeting Held; Omer Klinefelter Elected President.

Rev. W. Martell George of Wesley M. E. church, Marion, Mrs. H. Edmund Hill of Marion and Rev. G. A. Hicks of Caledonia Memorial church were speakers at the Claridon Township Sunday school meeting held yesterday at the Claridon M. E. church.

Omer Klinefelter of Beech was reelected president and all other officers of the organization were reelected for another year.

Rev. George spoke yesterday afternoon on prohibition, explaining the stand of the dry sponsors and giving voting instructions. Last night Mrs. Hill spoke on "Death Row Experiences," drawing from her personal observations as the only woman ever admitted to the Ohio State penitentiary death row.

Music for the afternoon session was furnished by M. C. Haley, Miss Margaret Howser and Howord Tittlebaugh of Beech, Miss Henrietta Bird of Likens, and several from the Caledonia Church of Christ. At night a male trio, John Kerr, Warren Adams and Mr. Haley sang.

MARTING HURT IN YALE-BROWN GAME

Injuries received in play Saturday will keep one of Marion's contributions to "big time" collegiate football out of action for the next several weeks, a dispatch from The Associated Press today indicates. W. A. (Del) Marting, first string quarterback on the Yale university football team, suffered a badly wrenched knee while playing against Brown university and was carried from the field on a stretcher. Marting is expected to be out for three weeks.

Marting formerly resided in Marion but his home is now located in Upper Sandusky.

M'NAUGHT TO MEET FISHBAUGH TONIGHT

Canadian and Cobbler in Two-Hour Battle at Shovel Gym.

Feeling somewhat resentful over what he thinks was a raw deal last Monday night, Scotty McNaught, Canadian middleweight grappler, is coming back to Marion tonight to give vent to his feelings. McNaught met Gus Kallio in a titular bout last week and claims that if timers hadn't allowed the time to go an extra 10 minutes he would have had a draw with the champion.

McNaught is coming back tonight, not to meet a champion, but to meet a foe who will give him just as much rough stuff as any title holder. He will meet Les Fishbaugh of Newark in a two-hour time limit clash with two falls to win. The match will be held at the Steam Shovel gym.

In the semi-final bout of the card, two newcomers will make their appearance over the 45 minute route. Lefty Tacer of Reno, Nev., and Bob Montgomery of Mobile, Ala., are the two.

The preliminary will start at 8:30 p. m.

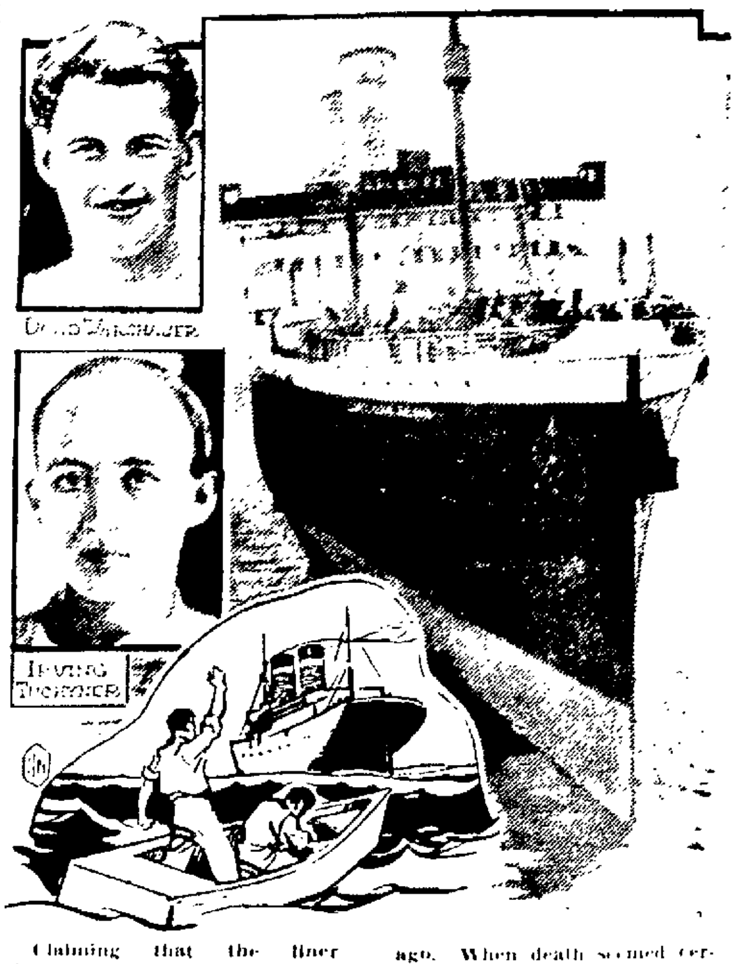
ODD SUIT FOLLOWS SEA TRAGEDY



Claiming that the liner Conte Biancamano passed his drifting boat in the open sea and failed to answer distress signals, David Warshauer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is suing the Italian line for $200,000 damages. Warshauer and his brother-in-law, Irving Tuchyner, were picked up by Coast Guards after they had drifted for nine days in the Atlantic, off New York, two years ago. When death seemed certain, they had made a pact that should one survive he would care for the family of the other. Tuchyner died of exposure and Warshauer hopes to collect from the shipping company in order to provide for his widow and child. The line company denied jurisdiction of the court to try the case, as well as Warshauer's allegations of unheeded distress signals.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.—Adv

ROOSEVELT MEMORY HONORED AT SERVICE

Boy Scouts Pay Tribute to Late President at Reformed Church.

The memory of the late President Theodore Roosevelt was honored in services last night at the First Reformed church. The service was in charge of Boy Scout Troop 7 and was in honor of the late President's birthday anniversary. A large part of the congregation was composed of scouts of other troops and parents of scouts.

The troop flag and American flag decorated the rostrum. The service included the awarding of merit badge honors to Leslie Reichard, Wilford Smith and Wayne Barnhill. Dr. Robert W. Hucke, pastor, spoke on "Christian Citizenship" and Arthur S. Brooks, Boy Scout executive, gave a short talk following the awarding of the merit badges.

Wilford Smith, Junior Denzer, Wayne Barnhill, William Tivener and Robert Longacre read a letter written by the late president.

Mrs. Royal Andrews and Mrs. Robert W. Hucke sang "Little Deeds." Mrs. E. P. Houser presided at the organ.

Bishop Schmuck is doing special development work in the Ohio diocese this month. Yesterday he was in East Liverpool and Tuesday he will speak in Lima.

GRAF MOORED AT MIAMI NAVY BASE

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 23—The Graf Zeppelin, its silver hulk glistening in a brilliant sun, moored at the Opa-Locka naval base today for a day's stop on its flight from Rio de Janeiro to Chicago.

Thousands of automobiles lined the roads around the air field, which was as close as visitors were allowed. No one was admitted inside the field prior to the craft's landing and all were searched by authorities before being permitted to enter. No explanation for searching was made by officials except to say "every precaution is being taken."

COLDS GO THRU 3 STAGES!

—and They Are Twice as Easy Stopped in the First as in the Second or Third Stages!

A cold passes through three stages—the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days, and the Mucous Secretion Stage. Once it gets beyond the Dry Stage it is far more difficult to relieve. A cold, therefore, should be treated promptly.

The wise thing to take is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine for several reasons. Instead of a "cure-all" it is expressly a cold remedy. It is also an internal treatment which a cold, an internal infection, requires. And it is complete in effect. It does the four things necessary.

First, it opens the bowels. Second, it combats the cold germs in the system and reduces the fever. Third, it relieves the headache and grippy feeling. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack. Anything less than that is not complete treatment.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is absolutely safe to take. For more than forty years it has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula always keeping pace with Modern Medicine.

Every druggist sells Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine, 30c and 50c. Good druggists won't offer a substitute for the sake of an extra profit. Don't wait or delay when you have caught cold, but go right to your druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Always ask for it by the full name and look for the letters L B Q stamped on every tablet.—Adv

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent by the Ford Motor Company and more than 175 other leading manufacturers to make this one of the most interesting, instructive and entertaining expositions Detroit has ever seen. There isn't a "dull" spot in it. From start to finish, it is a moving, living pageant of the automotive and allied industries.

Here you will see the new contrasted with the old, the development of the automobile, the contributions of laboratory, factory, mine and farm to the powerful, handsome Ford V-8 cars and trucks. Don't miss it. Here is instruction and entertainment for children as well as grownups.
